

OHIO LEGISLATURE ENDS SESSION

NATION PAYS FINAL TRIBUTE TO SPEAKER

CINCINNATI BOWED IN GRIEF; FRIENDS GATHER AT FUNERAL

Official Washington
Present; Body Taken
To Family Home

CINCINNATI, O., April 11.—Just as the first rays of the sun began sifting through the early morning mist of this Ohio valley city today, a train puffed laboriously into Union Station here, bearing the body of Nicholas Longworth, late speaker of the United States house of representatives.

Dear to the hub of his native metropolis and blind to the saddened gaze of downcast neighbors, the statesman was being returned to receive a last tribute and to be buried in the city where his fathers came 127 years ago to build a family fortune.

This afternoon, the entire nation will bow its head in grief as the President of the United States, the vice president, scores of dignitaries and persons from the humbler walks of life pay their last adieu to Mr. Longworth.

The sealed casket containing the remains of the speaker was affectionately removed from the noisy train at Union station to a hearse, the purr of whose motor could scarcely be heard as it glided over strangely silent downtown streets and out to the edge of the city where lies "Rockwood," the family home of the Longworths for the last three generations.

Thousands of Mr. Longworth's fellow townsmen — men, women and children of every age, race and occupation — jammed the depot to pay humble tribute to Mr. Longworth.

Hardly a whisper escaped their lips as they stood, heads reverently bowed, when Mrs. Alice Longworth, "Princess Alice," the wife that Mr. Longworth courted and won in the White House, hurried from the private car where she had kept vigil over the bronze casket of her husband on its journey from Aiken, S. C., to an automobile awaiting her.

Wearing deep black mourning, and heavily veiled, "Princess Alice" took the arms of her brothers, Kermit and Archibald Roosevelt, and walked with brave strides to the automobile.

Saddened and wearied by her sleepless watch over the casket, she avoided the public's eye. Once in the automobile she relaxed against the soft cushions, determined to remain brave through today's ordeal.

At the side of her brothers was Mrs. F. Curtis, her Aiken hostess. Mrs. Longworth's sister, Mrs. Buckner Wallingford, was at the station to meet the funeral train.

Colonel Campbell Hodges, per-
(Continued on Page Two)

DEMPSEY DENIES HE PROPOSES DIVORCE

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 11.—Jack Dempsey, former world's champion heavyweight boxing champion, was on the way to Reno today "for his health." Dempsey passed through here late yesterday for Nevada, but refused to discuss a reported rift in his marital relations.

Dempsey did say, however, that he would probably be in Nevada for about six weeks. Recent reports from Los Angeles quoted Estelle Taylor, film star, as denying that there was an estrangement between herself and Dempsey, her husband. At that time Dempsey also said he knew nothing about plans for any divorce.

Dempsey spent several days in Nevada about a month ago. He said he was looking the field over for possible real estate investment.

INDIANA OFFICIAL STRICKEN ON TRAIN

CINCINNATI, O., April 11.—Emmet Branch of Indianapolis, collapsed on the train here today as he arrived to attend the funeral service of Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the United States house of representatives.

Police, stationed about the union station to handle crowds that had gathered to witness the arrival of delegations of dignitaries for the funeral, rushed the stricken official to General Hospital in an ambulance. The nature of Branch's illness was not announced.

SUICIDES ON GRAVE

LARAMIE, Wyo., April 11.—Standing on the grave of his sweetheart, Estel Frisbey, 22, fired a bullet through his head and died instantly. He had been dependent since the death of his fiancée last week.

EAKER FLIES ACROSS NATION IN ATTEMPT TO SET NEW RECORD

MAY BE CANDIDATE

John W. Patterson, above, a wet Democrat, is regarded as a likely successor to the congressional seat left vacant by the death of Speaker Nicholas Longworth. Only Longworth's long service and great popularity enabled him to defeat Patterson in his Cincinnati district last November. Longworth pulled through by some 3,500 votes at that time.

YOUNG WOMAN TELLS DETAILS OF MURDER INSPIRED BY CULT

Re-enacts Crime For Authorities In Home
Of Victim

WILKES-BARRE, April 11.—Mrs. Frances Thomsen, 29, pale featured little former Pittsburgh school teacher whose verbal reenactment of Pennsylvania's most bizarre murder since the "hex" slayings at York, solved the mystery of the slayings of Miss Minnie E. Dilley, 76-year-old spinster, was to be arraigned today for preliminary hearing on a charge of murder.

Judge W. S. McLean, Luzerne County jurist, will preside at the hearing. Indications were that counsel arrayed in Mrs. Thomsen's behalf would not raise the sanity issue at the hearing. It was believed, however, that the common-law evidence eventually would initiate a move for appointment of a sanity commission in the absence of such action by the defense.

Amid a hushed silence in the darkened rooms of the palatial mansions where Miss Dilley met death, Mrs. Thomsen revealed to county authorities how she, a quiet, cultured college graduate, turned slayer to free herself and her husband, Carl, from what she termed the "sinister, psychic control" of Miss Dilley.

The touch of occultism was given a further fantastic shading as Mrs. Thomsen talked. An unwinning statue of Eros, god of love, regarded her steadily from its setting atop the fireplace.

She said: "I walked in and told Miss Dilley that I wished to discuss this cult which was breaking up my home. I wanted to inform her that Carl must not become her high priest, as planned."

"While I talked, I sat on this sofa here, and she sat in that chair by the fireplace. I could sense in greater degree than ever before the mental power of this woman that had enslaved my husband, and was reaching out for me."

"It was then I decided that only physical force could free me from a living death. . . ."

She choked up for a moment, and then continued: "And then—I rendered her unconscious with the ginger ale bottle. To make sure, I did the rest."

Prosecutor Thomas N. Lewis interrupted: "You mean you cut her throat?"

"Yes," replied simply the college graduate, daughter of a minister and mother of three children. She told of washing her hands and the bloody bread knife and of hitch-hiking the 300 miles back to Pittsburgh.

"I was a great relief," she said. "I have no qualms. I killed in self-defense."

Hopes To Beat Hawks' Time; To Refuel At Wichita

UNITED AIRPORT, BURBANK, Calif., April 11.—Captain Ira Eaker, army test pilot, hopped off from here at 3:39:37 a. m. today (Pacific Standard Time) on an attempted one-stop record flight to New York. He will refuel at Wichita, Kansas, and hopes to reach New York before sundown.

Weather conditions over his flying route were reported to be generally fair, and he will have a slight tail wind to help him on the first part of his flight.

Captain Eaker's plane appeared to be functioning perfectly as he warmed it up for the transcontinental flight. He stated he anticipated no trouble during his aerial journey.

This is Eaker's second attempt to span the continent in record time. Recently, he was forced down in a small town in Kentucky and his plane was badly damaged. He himself escaped with slight injuries.

The record for the flight is held by Frank Hawks, who streaked across the country in twelve hours and twenty-five minutes.

With his fuel tanks carrying 360 gallons of gasoline, Captain Eaker figured that this supply would be ample to take him to Wichita. His plane was not equipped with a radio.

The supply of food he carried was limited. It consisted of an apple and an orange and two quarts of milk.

By maintaining an average speed of 220 miles an hour Eaker declared he could cross the continent in eleven hours and fifteen minutes.

Eaker's plane is a new low-wing monoplane. Its landing gear is hinged and can be drawn upward into the wings out of the way of the wind. This feature was said to have added twenty miles an hour to the speed of the plane.

In making a one-stop flight, Eaker hoped to prove that such a flight could be made faster than a non-stop one. By refueling at Wichita Eaker pointed out that he could utilize his fuel speed, between refueling points and the finish without regard of gasoline economy, and that he would not be hampered with a cumbersome load of fuel at the starting point.

Control To Depend On Election In Ohio District

BITTER BATTLE FOR LONGWORTH SEAT IN HOUSE IS EXPECTED

WASHINGTON, April 11.—A battle of deep and unusual significance will be waged between the Republicans and the Democrats to elect a congressman to succeed the late Speaker "Nick" Longworth.

National organizations of both parties are preparing to throw all their resources into the contest, for on the outcome of the special election which Gov. George White will call this autumn probably depends partisan control of the house of representatives of the seventy-second congress. The plans are already in process of formation and will mature as soon as a decent interval elapses after the burial of the late speaker in Cincinnati today.

Seldom in the political history of the country has so much depended upon the outcome of a single congressional election as will depend upon the verdict of the voters in Ohio's first district, which the genial, popular "Nick" represented in congress for twenty-six years.

A Republican victory will allow the Republicans to retain their narrow majority of a single vote in the new house. A Democratic victory will exactly balance the scales between the two parties with 217 seats each, and leave the balance of power, theoretically at least, in the hands of a youthful Minnesotaan, Paul Kvale, who alone in the new house bears the label of the farmer-labor party.

With so much at stake, it is only natural that the national leaders of both parties are vitally concerned in the outcome. The administration is expected to throw the not inconsiderable weight of its influence and assistance into the fight before it is over.

Even at this early date, both parties seem confident of the outcome.

GOVERNOR IS FETED

Girl Duped By Fake Count Pleads For Forgiveness

NEW YORK, April 11.—"Forgive me mother. Please. I am sorry for all the trouble and worry I have caused you. I don't suppose you want me back but from now on I promise to be a good girl."

This was the message pretty 18-year-old Eugenie Jeanne Mourey, who is being questioned by narcotic agents and who arrived two days ago from Berlin after a hectic romance with a "bogus count," asked International News Service to send to her mother in St. Louis.

"I am sorry it all happened the way it did but I still like Boris even if the police have him in jail in Berlin," she said.

The Boris she referred to is the man with whom she ran away to Berlin. Eugenie is pretty in a doll-like way, has dimples and her rich brown hair falls loosely about her shoulders. She left her home in St. Louis about a year ago to cultivate her voice for the radio in New York.

Then one day she met "Count" Boris Dobrecinski, who seemed, she said, "a charming Russian nobleman with hosts of aristocratic friends."

"I liked him very much but did

ROYAL COUPLE WELCOMED

Typical Broadway Reception Amazes Oriental Honeymooners In New York

NEW YORK, April 11.—Every body loves a bridal couple.

And New York, the gateway to American hospitality, today began showing a good time to the royal honeymooners from Japan—Prince Takamatu, younger brother of emperor Hirohito, and his bride.

The prince thought he was visiting the United States Incognito, or at least without formality. But a heavy guard of police watched over the slumber of the royal party before they arose for a heavy day of festivities.

Crowds waited outside the royal hotel and a motorcycle escort with sirens primed was ready to lead the imperial entourage at breakneck speed to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, a reception at city hall, a broadcasting studio, a luncheon and a dinner.

The prince has maintained his oriental facial immobility since the New York harbor welcome when he arrived here on the liner Aquitania. But he confided that the noise, parade up Broadway, the cheering throngs and particularly the energy of American newspaper photographers have been the most amazing phenomena greeting him and his bride since they started on their honeymoon world tour a year ago.

The 19-year old princess, who looks like a Japanese print, takes it with more expression. She smiles and glances shyly here and there. Incidentally, she is one of the best dressed princesses in the royalty business. And she is accidental enough to use a slight touch of powder, rouge and lipstick.

The prince broke precedent by permitting himself to be interviewed through an interpreter.

His chief goal in coming to America?

"To see Americans," he replied. After a number of routine questions, one reporter asked: "Do you play chess?"

The 26-year-old prince laughed. "No," he said, "but I like to read."

There are many advantages to being a prince. He dismissed the

(Continued on Page Two)

"PITTSBURGH" HYMIE MARTIN SENTENCED TO LIFE IN PRISON

CLEVELAND, April 11.—"Pittsburgh Hymie" Martin, self-admitted rum-runner, today was sentenced to life imprisonment in Ohio Penitentiary without hope of pardon for the murder of former Councilman William E. Potter.

Sentence was pronounced by Criminal Judge Walter McMahon, who overruled a motion for a new trial before passing the sentence on Martin.

Defense Attorney William Minshall announced after the sentence was given that he would appeal the case to the court of appeals. Martin probably will be taken to the penitentiary within a few days to begin his sentence.

Martin stated that he had nothing to say when the court asked him to stand before passing the sentence. The convicted slayer was attired in a new brown suit and appeared calm as he heard the words that will confine him to prison for the rest of his life.

Minshall's plea that the motion proceedings be delayed was opposed by Judge McMahon, who stated that there was no necessity for delay.

Denied the postponement, Minshall informed the court that he did not wish to argue the motion and the sentence was passed.

THREATEN COUPLE; LOOT VALUED AT $30,000

CHICAGO, April 11.—Police today scoured the city for four bandits who last night held up Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Means, threatened them with torture and death, and robbed their south side home of $30,000 in jewels, fur and cash.

Means was fitting his house key into the door when the bandits forced him to open the door, then pushed him and his wife inside.

"Now where's the wall safe," the leader demanded, but insisted he did not know the combination. After threats that his wife would be killed unless the combination was forthcoming, the bandits accepted Means' story that he never had used the wall safe.

Means convinced the truth of his story by revealing the hiding place of his wife's jewels. Among the jewels were two rings valued at $10,000 and four bracelets worth more than $15,000.

KING IMPROVES WITH WEATHER

LONDON, April 11.—Warm spring weather helped today to speed King George to recovery from the attack of sub-acute bronchitis, but his physicians ordered him to remain in his room at Windsor Castle for another few days.

It was officially stated that his majesty continued to make rapid improvement. He has been confined since Easter Sunday.

TREASURY BALANCE

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Treasury balance as of April 9: $457,501,824.03; expenditures $12,720,173.29; customs receipts $10,124,559.95.

ASKS ENFORCEMENT FOR CONSERVATION OF OHIO WILD LIFE

Made Life Member Of Fish, Game Body At Banquet Here

Governor George White was made an honorary life member of the Greene County Fish and Game Protective Association at the annual banquet of the organization at Masonic Temple Friday night.

Four hundred and fifty persons attended the banquet, heard addresses by Governor White, Arthur Harper, Columbus, out-door editor of the Columbus Dispatch and Count A. M. Lochwitzky, Wright Field, Fairfield and witnessed three reels of motion pictures of outdoor sports.

Governor White came to the banquet after a brief inspection of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, in which he is much interested. Accompanied by his daughter and official "first lady of Ohio," Miss Mary White and by Representative R. D. Williamson of Greene County, he did not arrive in Xenia until 4:30 o'clock.

The group was met here by Geo. Little, prominent Xenian, long a friend of the governor and a colleague of the latter in the state legislature a number of years ago.

The party went directly to the Home, where the visitors were greeted by Captain Harold Hays, superintendent, and his official staff and by the cadet battalion in parade formation.

Although in his banquet address, Governor White referred briefly to his visit to the Home, he privately revealed that if the state were not so poor, he would greatly favor the full appropriation of approximately $2,000,000 sought in the institutional budget for the next two years. The budget program includes enlargements because the Home has reached its capacity. The governor, in his address, expressed his desire to return to Xenia for a further visit to the Home.

The executive is not in favor of strict partisan enforcement in regard to appointments in the conservation department, he told his hearers, emphasizing the importance of having careful administration of the fish and game laws above the merit of distributing political patronage. "We must have officers who will conserve and build up wild life in the state," he said. Pointing out that the lover of the out of doors is the antithesis of the communist thinker, he declared that this is "indirectly connected with stability of government."

The governor said he was glad to learn of the success of the Xenia Fish Hatchery and that the hatchery, unlike some others in the state, is provided with good

(Continued on Page Two)

SHOOTS TWO IN CITY STREETS

CHICAGO, April 11.—Chicago's "uptown" was restored to normalcy today following the shooting last night by police of a robber suspect and a young mother who was wheeling her nine-month old baby. Hundreds of theatergoers hurried to cover as police fired on the suspect, when he broke away from being questioned in connection with a robbery.

The mother, Mrs. Mildred Biegel, was struck on the left leg by a stray bullet. The suspect Jack, La Rue, 21, was shot twice in the stomach. His condition was critical.

ACTRESS IS ILL

NEW ORLEANS, April 11.—Ethel Barrymore Colt, who made her stage debut with her mother, Ethel Barrymore, in "Scarlet Sister Mary," today is in a hospital here with measles.

She was forced to desert the show, which moved on yesterday. An understudy is playing her part.

MOTHER AND FIVE CHILDREN ARE BURNED TO DEATH IN DWELLING

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., April 11.—A mother and her five children were burned to death today when fire destroyed their home at Shearstown, Bay Roberts. The victims were Mrs. Sarah Powell and her children, ranging in age from twenty-two to six.

The father, William Powell, was found by neighbors in a dazed condition outside the house and could not explain how the tragedy occurred.

ADMITS SLAYING

Believing that Minnie Dilley, 76-year-old Forty Port, Pa., spinster, exercised an influence over her husband and desired him to head a "love cult," Mrs. Francis Thompson, 29, above, Wellesley graduate, has confessed, according to Wilkes-Barre police, to the slaying of the older woman. Miss Dilley was found clubbed and hacked to death in her palatial home.

HUGHES OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes today observed the sixty-ninth anniversary of his birth by studying important cases the supreme court is expected to decide Monday when it reconvenes after a short recess.

It was just another arduous day of work for the eminent jurist, whose whitened and famous beard is the only apparent sign of his having passed another milestone.

Still austere, the Hughes of today, however, is a more mellow man than when he first began his march to fame via the investigation of the New York insurance scandal a generation ago. When formerly on the supreme court and when a candidate for the presidency in 1916, his severe, almost forbidding bearing, made him difficult to approach.

The years have softened him, and today he is affable; a broad smile comes readily through his beard, and although conscious of the dignity of his office, he jends a humanly direct businesslike touch to the usual solemnity of that august body.

DAUGHERTY CITES ERRORS IN APPEAL

WASHINGTON C. H. O., April 11.—A brief setting forth twenty-one grounds of alleged error was on file here today by Mal S. Daugherty, former banker, who was recently sentenced to ten years in Ohio Penitentiary and ordered to pay a fine of $5,000 and costs for mishandling funds of the defunct Ohio State Bank.

TODAY---

THE WORLD-FAMOUS ROMANCE of
"PRINCESS" ALICE ROOSEVELT and
THE LATE NICHOLAS LONGWORTH
Speaker of the House of Representatives in picture and story form, written by Ann Keezer, Washington writer, and illustrated by Artist R. J. Scott

Turn to Page (6) for First Instalment Today!

RAYMOND H. STILES SUDDENLY CALLED; WELL KNOWN HERE

Raymond H. Stiles, 33, well known Xenian, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Stiles, 221 Cincinnati Ave., Saturday morning at 6 o'clock following a sudden heart attack. He became ill from acute indigestion Friday night and this is thought to have brought on the heart attack which caused his death. His death came as a shock to hundreds of friends as he apparently was enjoying good health before the fatal attack.

Mr. Stiles was born in Xenia, January 22, 1898 and spent his entire life here, where he was associated with his father in the operation of the Stiles Coal Co. He graduated from Central High School with the class of 1915. He was a charter member of Ohio Beta Beta Chapter, Phi Delta Kappa fraternity and was serving his third term as president of this organization at the time of his death. He was a member of the First Reformed Church.

Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers: Harry Stiles, Los Angeles, Calif., and Paul Stiles, circulation manager of the Piquette Daily Call, Piquette, O., and a sister, Mrs. Monroe Block, Cincinnati. A brother, Lester Stiles, who was in the shoe business here many years, preceded him in death five months.

Funeral services will be held at the Stiles home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial will be made in Woodland Cemetery. Friends may call at the home after 3 p. m. Sunday.

TO CONSIDER TAXES AT RECESS MEETING SCHEDULED MAY 11

(Continued From Page One)

seized him some weeks ago. He was reported to be improving.

Among the major measures which passed the legislature Friday were:

The Johnson bill, revising Ohio's aviation code; the Johnson bill, authorizing workers to form "credit unions," the Beard bill, regulating the sale and use of fireworks; the Secrest-Bostwick bill, reappropriating part of the state gasoline tax fund to the state, counties, municipalities and townships so as to increase the portion allotted to the township; the Marshall bill, revising the state's arbitration laws; the Whittemore bill, enacting a new foreign corporation code; the Nickels bill, placing the public employees' division of the Ohio workmen's compensation fund upon an actuarial basis; the Ackerman bill, restoring the statutory provision for minimum sentences for penitentiary prisoners and repealing the law relative to intermediate sentences; the Weber bill, enlarging the state clemency board from two to four members; the Dunipace-Weir bill, revising the probate code; the Ackerman bill, creating a state board to examine and license barbers; the Marshall bill, clarifying the state securities code; and the Smith-Gunnett bill, providing for construction of improved state highways leading to state parks.

Shortly before recessing, the house killed the Taft resolution which proposed that the state constitution be amended so as to provide four-year terms for the governor, lieutenant-governor, attorney general, secretary of state and state treasurer.

The house, also, defeated the Corlett bill which sought to define the practice of law and to limit such practice to attorneys.

The governor vetoed the original Johnson aviation code bill, the Fawcett-Ellis bill, regulating the practice of professional engineering and land surveying, and the Finerock bill, providing for the creation of a state board to examine and license embalmers and funeral directors.

POSTPONE HEARING ON INJUNCTION IN SCHOOL SITE CASE

Legal complications caused postponement Friday afternoon of a hearing before Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy on an injunction suit brought by Erith R. Shephard on behalf of himself and 673 other residents of Beaver Creek Twp., under which the township school board has been temporarily enjoined from proceeding with construction of a new $150,000 centralized school building on the Haines farm site.

Acting on his own initiative under provisions of a law which makes it mandatory for the prosecuting attorney to represent a township board of education in legal matters, Prosecutor Marcus McCallister has filed a demurrer to the petition, Counsel for Shephard and other petitioners challenged the right of the prosecutor to represent the school board because the board had failed to pass a resolution authorizing him to take action in its behalf.

Judge Gowdy adjourned the hearing after directing the school board to decide at a special meeting Saturday whether the services of the legal prosecutor are desired.

The injunction suit is based on the contention the school board abused its discretion in the matter of selecting a site for the new school building and that the board disregarded the wishes of a majority of the residents of the township who favor erection of the structure on a site at Zimmerman.

President Hoover To Be Heard On Radio Monday

By MILDRED MASON

The first of a series of eight addresses to be delivered by President Hoover within the next two months and to be broadcast will be heard Monday morning when he addresses the opening session of the annual convention of the American Red Cross in Washington. The convention program will be broadcast from 10:30 to 11 a. m. and will be carried over coast-to-coast networks of both the National Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The program to be broadcast will consist of the calling of the convention to order by Judge John Barton Payne, chairman; invocation by the Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, Episcopal bishop of Washington; President Hoover's address and a short talk by Vice Chairman James L. Fisher in charge of domestic relations.

Other addresses of President Hoover to be delivered within the next few weeks will be announced in this column from time to time.

Marine Officer On Air
Sergeant Faustine Wirkus, U. S. Marine officer who enjoys the position of "king" of the island of La Gomera by virtue of his appointment to the post of resident commander, and William B. Stout, vice president of the Stout Metal Airplane Co., will be guest speakers during Collier's Radio Hour Sunday at 8:15 p. m. The program will be heard over station WSAI, Cincinnati. Wirkus is reputed to know more about the black art of Voodooism than any other white man.

Baseball Players To Speak

King Baseball will be ushered in a pre-season program Monday night when two of the greatest defensive players and two of the greatest hitters the game has ever known took over an NBC network from 7:45 to 8 p. m. Those speaking on the program will be Dazzy Vance, who will talk from New York; Robert (Lefty) Grove, from Washington; Hack Wilson, from Chicago, and Babe Ruth, from New York. The program, which is on the eve of the opening battles of the American and National Leagues, will be carried by a number of NBC stations but it has not been announced if it will come through any of the Cincinnati stations.

To Honor Jefferson

John H. Fahey, noted publisher and executive and at present publisher of the Worcester, Mass., Evening Post, will pay honor to Thomas Jefferson, third President of the United States and author of the Declaration of Independence when he talks over the NBC network Monday evening, the birth anniversary of the early President. His subject will be "Thomas Jefferson." The program will be carried by stations affiliated with WEAF, New York.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY CAST REHEARSING

The junior class of Central High School is preparing for final rehearsals of its class play "Are You A Mason?", to be presented in Jean B. Elwell Auditorium Thursday and Friday nights.

Clyde Shumaker, director, has been having his troubles with cast because of illness, but thinks all his performers will be in shape for the play. Final dress rehearsals will be held the first part of the week.

Tickets for the performance were issued to class members Friday and may be purchased from any junior up until the night of the play. The regular admission price of fifty cents will be charged and all seats will be reserved.

REAL ESTATE

A. C. and Jane C. Sanders to George T. Eatman, 978 acres in Xenia city, $100.

Granville C. and Frestie M. Ford to Edwin S. Foust, 4.50 acres in Xenia Twp., $100.

Howard S. Smith, trustee, and Louella B. Smith to Erasmus J. Kitchen, Jr., 73.45 acres in Cedarville Twp., $11.00.

Elizabeth Strohm, .08 acres in Bath Twp., $100.

Elizabeth Strohm to Warren and Carolina Snell, .08 acres in Bath Twp., $100.

James R. and Agnes Bickett, Frank D. and Nellie Bickett to Leigh Bickett, undivided two-thirds interest in 69.09 acres in Xenia Twp., $100.

Alvin A. and Veda Conklin to Herbert H. Conklin, undivided one-half of 113.88 acres in Caesar Creek Twp., Greene County and Liberty Twp., Clinton County.

Jefferson Buckner to John Buckner Sr., lot in Cedarville village, $100.

L. C. Hartsock, Edward C. Hartsock, Elsie May Crites, Earl Hartsock, heirs of S. V. Hartsock to Leona F. Houston, lot in Spring Valley village, $100.

George T. and Roxie Bateman to Ray H. Murry, Burl H. Strong and James Leininger, trustees of the Church of Christ, Xenia, 978 acres in Xenia city, $100.

Sterling and Hattie Scott to the Cedarville Building and Loan Association, 15 acres in Greene and Clark Counties, $100.

Miriam Hawkins Smith to James H. Hawkins, one-third interest in 197.72 acres in Greene County, $100.

SET STYLE IN TREES
HARTFORD, Conn. April 11.—The state highway department has selected an official list of trees to be set out along roads in Connecticut. The list follows: Norway maple, pin oak, weeping willow, American elm, sugar maple, red maple, European linden, Oriental plane, white ash, red pine, mountain ash, Canadian hemlock, Huntington elm, Reitenbachs Norway maple, and Moline elm.

STARS * OF RADIOLAND

A. W. (Sen) Kaney

One of radio's pioneer announcers, Sen Kaney, has been specializing in sports broadcasting for many years. One of his real achievements, however, was in persuading Henry Ford to speak over the air for the first time. Entered the brokerage business after attending law school at Northwestern, then turned to radio. His wife fell in love with him when she heard his voice on the air. Later they met through a mutual friend.

On the Air From Cincinnati

SATURDAY, APRIL 11

5:00 p. m.—Sectatary Hawkins.
5:30—Doctors of Melody.
5:45—Glenn Sisters.
6:00—Recorded program.
6:05—Crosley Theater of the Air.
6:30—Babes of Radio.
6:45—Lowell Thomas.
7:00—Amos 'n' Andy.
7:15—Jesters.
7:30—Crosley Saturday Knights.
8:30—Vocal trio.
9:00—Horseshoe Gardens Orchestra.
9:15—Variety.
9:30—Musical Doctors.
10:00—Marietta College Glee Club.
10:30—Clara, Lu and Em.
10:45—Bob Newhall, sports slices.
11:02—King Edward Band.
12:00 Mid.—Hotel Gibson Orchestra.

12:30 a. m.—The Doodlersocks.
1:00—Castle Farm Orchestra.
1:30-2:00—Netherland Plaza Orchestra.
2:00—WRCR.
5:00 p. m.—Belasco Orchestra.
6:00—Princess Yonne.
6:20—Sports Review.
6:30—Real estate talk, Phil E. Lawmill.
6:45—Studio.
7:00—Morton Downey.
7:30—Junior Chamber of Commerce program.
8:00—Mariemont program.
8:30—Studio.
8:45—Mary Charles.
9:30—National Radio Forum.
10:00—Hank Simon's Showboat.
11:15—Cremo Military Band.
11:30—Guy Lombardo's Orchestra.
12:00 Mid.—Blackberry Dusters.

WCKY:
6:45 p. m.—Bill McMahon.
7:00—Amos 'n' Andy.
7:15—Jesters.
7:31—Medley Five.
8:00—Ragamuffins.
8:15—Hill Billy Kid.
8:30—Al Miller's Fiddlers.
9:00-9:30—Lookout House Orchestra.
WSAI:
6:45 p. m.—Uncle Abe and David.
7:00—Netherland Plaza Orchestra.
7:30—Ted Lewis Musicians.
8:00—Weber and IFelds.
8:15—Low Conrad and Welcome Lewis.
8:30—Silver Plute.
9:00—General Electric program.
10:00-11:00—Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra.

WLV:
5:00 p. m.—Vox Humana.
5:30—Roamios.
6:00—Conservatory of Music Concert.
6:30—University of Cincinnati Debut.
7:00—Seger Ellis.
7:15—Variety.
7:30—Crosley Concert Hour.
8:00—Enna Jettick Melodies.
8:15—Colliers Hour.
9:15—Murray Horton's Orchestra.
9:30—Casa Grande Orchestra.
10:00—Castle Farm Orchestra.
10:15—Kelllogg Slumber Music.
10:30—Castle Farm Orchestra.
11:00—Heel Hugger program.
11:30—RKO Albee Act.
12:00 Mid.—Crosley Revue.

WLV:
5:00 p. m.—Chats With Peggy Winthrop.
5:15—Maltine Story.
5:30—Old Man Sunshine.
5:45—Organ With Harriet Wellen.
6:00—Bradley Kincaid.
6:15—Mormon Tabernacle Choir.
6:30—Thermoid Program.
6:45—Lowell Thomas.
7:00—Amos 'n' Andy.
7:15—To Be Announced.
7:30—Shannon Melody Weavers.
7:45—Bob Newhall, Sport Slices.
8:00—Vision-Airs.
8:30—Gold Medal Express.
9:00—Maytag Orchestra.
9:30—Real Folks.
10:00—Footlight Frolic.
10:30—Empire Builders.
11:03—Willis Musical Memories.
12:00 Mid.—Castle Farm Orchestra.

12:30 a. m.—Netherland Plaza Orchestra.
1:00—Hotel Gibson Orchestra.
1:30—Brooks and Ross.

SUNDAY
5:00 p. m.—Vox Humana.
5:30—Roamios.
6:00—Conservatory of Music Concert.
6:30—University of Cincinnati Debut.
7:00—Seger Ellis.
7:15—Variety.
7:30—Crosley Concert Hour.
8:00—Enna Jettick Melodies.
8:15—Colliers Hour.
9:15—Murray Horton's Orchestra.
9:30—Casa Grande Orchestra.
10:00—Castle Farm Orchestra.
10:15—Kelllogg Slumber Music.
10:30—Castle Farm Orchestra.
11:00—Heel Hugger program.
11:30—RKO Albee Act.
12:00 Mid.—Crosley Revue.

MONDAY
5:00 p. m.—Chats With Peggy Winthrop.
5:15—Maltine Story.
5:30—Old Man Sunshine.
5:45—Organ With Harriet Wellen.
6:00—Bradley Kincaid.
6:15—Mormon Tabernacle Choir.
6:30—Thermoid Program.
6:45—Lowell Thomas.
7:00—Amos 'n' Andy.
7:15—To Be Announced.
7:30—Shannon Melody Weavers.
7:45—Bob Newhall, Sport Slices.
8:00—Vision-Airs.
8:30—Gold Medal Express.
9:00—Maytag Orchestra.
9:30—Real Folks.
10:00—Footlight Frolic.
10:30—Empire Builders.
11:03—Willis Musical Memories.
12:00 Mid.—Castle Farm Orchestra.

12:30 a. m.—Netherland Plaza Orchestra.
1:00—Hotel Gibson Orchestra.
1:30—Brooks and Ross.

TUESDAY
5:00 p. m.—Chats With Peggy Winthrop.
5:15—Maltine Story.
5:30—Old Man Sunshine.
5:45—Organ With Harriet Wellen.
6:00—Bradley Kincaid.
6:15—Mormon Tabernacle Choir.
6:30—Thermoid Program.
6:45—Lowell Thomas.
7:00—Amos 'n' Andy.
7:15—To Be Announced.
7:30—Shannon Melody Weavers.
7:45—Bob Newhall, Sport Slices.
8:00—Vision-Airs.
8:30—Gold Medal Express.
9:00—Maytag Orchestra.
9:30—Real Folks.
10:00—Footlight Frolic.
10:30—Empire Builders.
11:03—Willis Musical Memories.
12:00 Mid.—Castle Farm Orchestra.

12:30 a. m.—Netherland Plaza Orchestra.
1:00—Hotel Gibson Orchestra.
1:30—Brooks and Ross.

WEDNESDAY
5:00 p. m.—Chats With Peggy Winthrop.
5:15—Maltine Story.
5:30—Old Man Sunshine.
5:45—Organ With Harriet Wellen.
6:00—Bradley Kincaid.
6:15—Mormon Tabernacle Choir.
6:30—Thermoid Program.
6:45—Lowell Thomas.
7:00—Amos 'n' Andy.
7:15—To Be Announced.
7:30—Shannon Melody Weavers.
7:45—Bob Newhall, Sport Slices.
8:00—Vision-Airs.
8:30—Gold Medal Express.
9:00—Maytag Orchestra.
9:30—Real Folks.
10:00—Footlight Frolic.
10:30—Empire Builders.
11:03—Willis Musical Memories.
12:00 Mid.—Castle Farm Orchestra.

12:30 a. m.—Netherland Plaza Orchestra.
1:00—Hotel Gibson Orchestra.
1:30—Brooks and Ross.

CINCINNATI BOWED IN GRIEF; FRIENDS GATHER AT FUNERAL

(Continued From Page One)

sonal representative of President Hoover, escorted the party from the train and then supervised the removal of the flower-banked casket. Dozens of floral pieces from Cincinnati friends awaited the late speaker at the station.

The funeral party made its way to "Rookwood" through streets crowded with traffic and lined with admirers who knew Mr. Longworth only by reputation. Donning hats again, hundreds of the crowd at the station set out to follow. Others stayed behind to await the arrival of Vice President Curtis and a congressional party at the same station an hour later.

Vice President Curtis and twenty-five members of the congressional party were welcomed at the station upon their arrival by Senator Simeon D. Pess, of Ohio, chairman of the Republican national committee, who motored here this morning from Yellow Springs.

Fully as large a crowd as the one that awaited the arrival of the funeral train earlier was on hand to see the Washington dignitaries. Vice President Curtis led the caravan of officials to a downtown hotel, where, after a short rest, all motored to "Rookwood" to express their sympathy to Mrs. Longworth.

For an hour this morning the fashionable old Longworth mansion which had not often admitted any but closest friends of the Longworths, was opened to allow the public to pay its last respects to Mr. Longworth.

Agreeing that the funeral of the congressional leader should be a public, friends in charge of the rites changed their original plans to hold only private services at the picturesque Longworth estate. Instead, they will be held at Christ Episcopal Church in the heart of Cincinnati.

In that old brick church, and surrounded by President Herbert Hoover, Vice President Charles Curtis, Governor George White and almost a hundred other dignitaries, Mr. Longworth will receive the services of the Episcopal Church this afternoon at two o'clock.

Following the services, the funeral procession will wind its way through the city to Spring Grove Cemetery, where the body will be laid to rest under a family monument that already towers over two other Longworths.

While members of the family and a few close friends hid themselves within the bounds of "Rookwood" for a last brief mournful solitude, delegations from all over the nation began arriving in the city to do homage to the leader who is gone.

There are only 750 seats in Christ Church where the services will be held and in view of this those in charge were forced to arrange for admission by card only. Hundreds of organizations made applications for places for honorary pallbearers named by these organizations in the church.

Among those arriving to attend the services was Governor George White and his official staff. A delegation from the state legislature was also present.

The services will be brief, simple and impressive. They will consume but twenty minutes and in compliance with the widow, will consist solely of musical numbers by a string quartet and the reading of the Episcopal service.

Rt. Rev. Henry Wise Hobson, bishop of the Episcopal diocese, will conduct the services. He will be assisted by Rev. Bernard Hummel, assistant rector at Christ Church.

Those who receive cards admitting them to the services will be received through the parish house from one o'clock until one-thirty. The President of the United States will arrive at 1:45 o'clock.

At two o'clock, according to the arrangements, the family and intimate friends of the speaker will enter the church and after that the church doors will be opened to accommodate as many others as the capacity of the church will permit.

Within half an hour after they were alleged to have raided a hen house on the farm of T. J. Wright, a mile south of Maple Corner, early Saturday morning, two reputed chicken thieves had been captured by Sheriff John Baughn and deputies.

The pair was held to the grand jury under bonds of $500 each on burglary and larceny charges by Municipal Judge E. Dawson Smith Saturday. They pleaded guilty.

Awakened about 3 a. m., Wright observed two shadowy figures near his poultry house. He obtained a shotgun and fired once at the intruders, frightening them away in their auto.

He then notified Sheriff Baughn who, with Deputies Dalton Spahr and L. A. Davis, drove out the Wilmington Pike and intercepted the alleged thieves near the Caesar creek bridge as they were driving toward Wilmington.

The suspects registered as Vernon Morgan, 18, and Alfred Dilard, 39, both of Xenia. A search of their car revealed sacks containing twenty-three chickens, three of which had been suffocated. The hens were subsequently identified by Wright as having been stolen from his chicken house.

ROYAL COUPLE IS WELCOMED

(Continued From Page One)

Interviewers with "that's enough." The photographers lined up before him. He posed a minute.

Then he said: "That's enough." "Hey, stick around, prince," shouted a cameraman.

But the prince was gone. A spokesman took over. He was commander Takaio Yamagata, master of ceremonies to the emperor. He will see that things are done as right as possible through the tour of the royal couple.

Commander Yamagata told how the prince and princess were interested in art, industrial and educational institutions and would probably visit Harvard University, Wellesley and Columbia.

The princess also is interested in sociological matters and hoped to visit welfare institutions in the United States and perhaps even go slumming.

"Does the royal couple dance?" "They know how but they will not dance here," said the spokesman.

"Will they go to a night club?" "Never," said the spokesman. "The princess plays the piano and sings but I am afraid she will not do so here."

"Will they go to a theater?" "No, no," said the spokesman. "They like to ski but I am afraid they are too late in the season for it here."

"Does the princess smoke?" was asked. "Almost not," said the spokesman. "In Japan it is not the custom much."

"Does she wear a kimono?" asked a girl reporter. "No, she does not wear a kimono," replied the master of ceremonies. "Sometimes at home she wears her native costume and sometimes she wears European clothes."

"Which does she like the best?" asked the girl reporter. "I am so sorry but I do not know," said the master of ceremonies.

ASKS ENFORCEMENT FOR CONSERVATION OF OHIO WILD LIFE

(Continued From Page One)

water. He paid a tribute to Representative Williamson, who introduced the governor, because of his cooperation, although they are not of the same political faith, and declared the visit to Xenia was his first out of Columbus since he assumed office.

The honorary life membership in the association was conferred by Harry Rice, president of the association and toastmaster at the banquet, who took occasion to remind the executive of his responsibility as a member in connection with the development of Bryan State Park, near Yellow Springs.

Preceding the after dinner program, Mr. Rice introduced Col. Henry Wyant, of Wright Field, L. F. Cleveland, veteran Xenia sportsman and Frank Brothers, of the state conservation department, who were guests at the speaker's table.

Arthur Harper, speaking on "Game Without a Closed Season," spoke brilliantly and rapidly on the enjoyment he has found in hunting and classifying wild plant and bird life in Ohio. He pointed out that this hobby offers a means of expression for the lover of the out of doors which is not hampered by a closed season, and painted a picture of the virgin field offered in Ohio for lovers of nature.

"Appreciation is the first step in conservation," he declared, and pointed out that there is a world of beauty in Greene County which offers alluring vistas to those who can find pleasure in seeking elusive types of wild flowers or in tracking down, through their songs only, the nests of some of Ohio's feathered creatures. His address, delivered in Floyd Gibbons manner, was well received.

Count Loewitz took his hearers on a mental trip of adventure which led from the luxurious estate of an officer of the imperial army in old St. Petersburg, through eighteen months imprisonment in a dungeon, through exile as a political prisoner in Siberia, a thrilling escape into Japan, where he taught school, and wound up with a description of his life as commander of a Chinese customs garrison on the Indo-China frontier.

The officer, who is a scholar and linguist, and a son of a former Russian lieutenant general of the czar's forces who was also assistant minister of war, told experiences in big game shooting when his life depended upon his nerve and marksmanship. His stories included tales of bear shooting in Russia and Siberia, and tiger and boar constrictor shooting in Indo-China and his thrilling escapades held his audience entranced.

The program was followed by three reels of motion pictures of fishing and outdoor scenes. The Home Cadet Band, under direction of Harold Seall and the Home Girls Octette directed by Mrs. Rose Byers, furnished musical entertainment preceding and during the dinner and Mrs. Richard McClellan contributed a solo to the evening's enjoyment. Jacob Kany was in charge of the dinner.

TROUBLED WATERS

DANBURY, Conn., April 11.—Because a state legislature appointed the commission to select the site for a reservoir for local use only, voters of the city of Danbury revolted against the Republican state organization held responsible for the commission, and for the first time in many years voted Democrats into office. A lone republican alderman managed to pull through.

SHIPYARDS BOOM
SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—San Francisco shipyards will be constructing $15,000,000 worth of new ships before the end of 1931, according to plans of two local steamship lines.

GIRL DUPED BY FAKE COUNT ASKS MERCY

(Continued From Page One)

not fall in love with him because he was so much older than I. He was 43."

"We were together in New York and then later Berlin. Why didn't I marry him? Simply because I did not want to. I wanted first to find out what kind of a man he was and if he would do all the things for me he said he was going to do. He promised to help me have my voice cultivated and make me aristocratic and sophisticated," she said.

"His friends all seemed to be of the nobility and we had lots of fun together. We traveled around first class and were seeing the world. I loved Berlin and German beer. We lived in a beautiful hotel in Berlin and everything seemed wonderful.

"But one day the very stern-looking Berlin police came and took him away."

"I didn't know what to do but the American consul persuaded me to go back to the United States. He paid my way back but I had to travel third class which was very different from the way I came over."

Eugene was seized on Wednesday when she landed on the George Washington and held by secret service agents. She was then turned over to the narcotic squad. Both of these branches of the federal government said they merely wanted to question her concerning the alleged narcotic activities of her friend Boris. Major Joseph Manning, head of the narcotic squad said he believed Boris was connected with an international dope ring and was trying to get "tips" on the ring from the girl.

The Neighborhood Club will conduct a "Students' Excursion" to Xenia Saturday morning to attend the movie "Man to Man," given at the Orpheum. The proceeds are to be applied on what is known as the Neighborhood Scholarship of Fifty Dollars.

A number of the instructors from the several departments of the

QUEST NO. 8
The trees are blooming! How many kinds of maple blossoms can you find? Elm? Can you find two kinds of flowers on the alders in Shawnee Park? Try to look at all these blossoms with a magnifying glass.

Pine Cone Troop, No. 3, Girl Scouts of America, will meet Monday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock in the assembly room of the Court House. A special program has been planned and all members are urged to be present.

WILBERFORCE

President Gilbert H. Jones is busily engaged making plans for commencement exercises and the diamond jubilee to take place June 7 to 11 and marking the seventy-fifth anniversary of Wilberforce University. This celebration will bring one of the largest gatherings in the history of the school. Many of the old graduates have sent word that they expect to attend and take part in the proceedings. In a few days President Jones will announce the list of some of the

WILLIS MUSICAL MEMORY HOUR
STATION WLW (700 Kc.)
MONDAY EVENING, 11 p. m. E. S. T.

New Willys Six DeLuxe Roadster, $675

... This striking new sport model gives added brilliance to the reputation of the Willys Six as the fastest, most powerful of all low-priced cars ... And the Roadster is as outstanding in appearance as it is in performance ... Low, racy lines—the attractive color harmony of two tones of green—the gleam of chromium plate—all combine in a smart, stylish ensemble.

$495 or
BE THRIFTY—BUY QUALITY
A BIG SIX, priced like a four
A POWERFUL EIGHT
A BRILLIANT KNIGHT
2 NEW WILLIS TRUCKS

Willys Six . . . $495 to $850
Willys Eight . . . 995 to 1095
Willys-Knight . . . 1095 to 1195
Willys 1 1/2-ton chassis . . . 395
Willys 1 1/4-ton chassis . . . 595
All prices f.o.b. Toledo, Ohio

THE GREENE COUNTY HARDWARE CO.
SALES AND SERVICE

leading educators of the country who will take part in the program. In order that the plans may be carried out he has named the following additional committees:

Invitations—Supt. R. B. Bundy, Dean F. A. McGinnis, Mr. B. H. Heard, Rev. H. H. Summers, Prize speaking contest—Mr.

Society-Personal-Clubs

THE NICEST courtesy you can show your guests is to have their visits mentioned on this page. The nicest courtesy you can show your friends is to let them learn of your visits through this page. Write your visits in the column of any kind. PHONE 70.

W. C. T. U. MEETS

HERE FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

An interesting review of the temperance cause from its early history to the present was given by Mrs. J. T. Charters as a feature of the meeting of A. C. Turrell, W. C. T. U., at the home of Mrs. Henry Dunkle, N. Galloway St., Friday afternoon.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Edwin Galloway and Miss Margaret Moorehead played a group of piano solos. Mrs. L. D. Ball presented instructive facts on the effect of narcotics on the youth and adult of today and was assisted in her illustration by Mrs. Frank Shelley and Mrs. Emma Simons.

Thursday, April 16, has been designated as "clean-up day" and members having old papers and magazines are asked to place them in front of their home for collection. Members were urged to attend the dry federation convention in Columbus next week.

Later a social hour was enjoyed and a refreshment course was served by Mrs. Dunkle, assisted by Mrs. L. T. Marshall, Mrs. W. L. Miller, Mrs. Florence McKeever, Mrs. John Loyd, Mrs. A. B. Dunkle, Mrs. Edwin Galloway, Mrs. Emma Vest, Mrs. Albert Bickett, Mrs. Grace Brannen and Mrs. Charles Tindall.

ANNUAL "MOCK WEDDING"

IS HELD THURSDAY EVENING

Miss Helen Powers, senior at Cedarville College, was "bride" at the annual "mock wedding" sponsored by members of the college Y. W. C. A. at the home of Miss Doris Swaby, Cedarville-Clifton Pike, Thursday evening. Members of the association, women faculty members and wives of faculty members were guests at the "wedding."

Other members of the bridal party were Miss Mildred Carle, groom: Miss Carmen Frazier, minister: Miss Rachel Douthett, maid of honor: Miss Sarah Rumbaugh, best man: Miss Lois Cutler, flower girl: Miss Martha Lackey, ring bearer: The Misses Wilda Auld, Martha Waddle, Eloise McLaughlin and Ruth Bradley, bride's maids: The Misses Doris Swaby, Ruth Marshall, Sarah Margaret Chance and Gertrude Martin, ushers.

Miss Eloise McLaughlin will be next year's bride, this honor coming to her when she was the junior girl to receive the ring in the wedding cake.

MISS LESEURD ATTENDS HOME ECONOMICS MEET

Miss Helen LeSeurd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. LeSeurd, W. Market St., and student at Lake Erie College, Painesville, O., was among the delegates from that college to the first state convention of Student Home Economics Clubs in Columbus Friday and Saturday. The student delegates, of which there were eight, will report on the convention at a meeting of the Home Economics Club of Lake Erie, Wednesday.

Miss LeSeurd will appear in the annual inter-class dramatic contest at the college gymnasium Saturday evening, April 18, it is announced. She will be one of a cast of four to present the play, "Joint Owners in Spain" by Alice Brown.

W. C. T. U. MEETS

IN BOWERSVILLE

Members of the Bowersville W. C. T. U. were urged to attend a rally of state dry forces in Columbus Monday and Tuesday at a meeting of the union at the home of Mrs. Percy Pugsley, Bowersville, Tuesday afternoon. Eight members and one visitor attended the meeting.

The "Power of Prayer" was the topic discussed during the afternoon and a letter was read from a girl in the Philippine Islands, who received a treasure chest sent by the Bowersville union. Later a social hour was enjoyed by the members.

McCLELLAN W. C. T. U.

ENTERTAINED WEDNESDAY

Eighteen members and two visitors attended the meeting of McClellan W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Clint Beals, Upper Bellbrook Pike, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. William Weiss, president, presided and Mrs. W. A. McCall conducted the devotional period.

A program on "Christian Citizenship" was given under the direction of Mrs. R. L. Gowdy and speakers on the subject were Mrs. Earl McClellan, Mrs. Pearl Wittenmyer and Mrs. J. S. Van Eaton. Later an ice cream was served by Mrs. Beals, assisted by Mrs. McClellan and Miss Zetta McClellan.

AID SOCIETY IS

ENTERTAINED FRIDAY

Members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church spent the afternoon sewing for the Red Cross when they met at the home of Mrs. Erskine Winter, Orange St., Friday afternoon. A short business meeting was held and plans for the year's work were discussed.

Later a social hour was enjoyed and a refreshment course was served by Mrs. Winter, assisted by Mrs. Naomi Moore.

INFORMAL DANCING

FARTY IS ENJOYED

Miss Marianne Snyder entertained a group of friends at an informal dancing party at her home on S. Detroit St., Friday evening. Dancing and cards were enjoyed and later a refreshment course was served. Seven couples enjoyed the affair.

Mrs. T. E. Cummings is confined to her home on W. Second St., because of illness.

Xenia Camp, No. 7004 Modern Woodmen of America, will meet Monday evening. Neighbor J. H. Class, district deputy of the sixteenth Ohio district, will be present at the meeting.

The Junior Woman's Club will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Graham Bryson, Clifton Pike.

"White Emperor" of Voodoo Isle

Tells How He Ruled La Gonave

Sixteen Years a Marine, Four Years a King Has Been 'the Amazing Career of Ex-Sergeant Faustin Wirkus.

WIRKUS ON HIS RETURN

NEW YORK, April 11.—The dolphin-shaped piece of land forty miles long, thirty miles northwest of Port-au-Prince, capital of Haiti, is far away from the white king who has ruled over the black population.

The return to civilization of Faustin E. Wirkus as a passenger on the Royal Netherlands has left this little island of emerald verdure fringed with crimson coral, where voodoo is practiced, without the man who ruled it jointly, with a coal-black queen. She is a Haitian; he a lieutenant of the United States Marines.

On arrival here, this twenty-nine-year-old marine, Faustin E. Wirkus, born in the town of Pittston, Pennsylvania, near Wilkes-Barre, in the core of the coal mining and farming district of that fruitful region told how he became king of the island and learned more about magical voodoo rites and dances, than any other living man.

Up to the time that he was 20, and had run away to join the Marines, the name "Haiti" meant little to him except something out of a geography book. He proved to be an excellent soldier, and it wasn't long before he was promoted to a top sergeant. In 1920 he made a trip to La Gonave in a sailboat, just to satisfy his curiosity, and the island interested him. A bit later, in Haiti, he met a fat woman, who had been arrested by the Haitian authorities for some trifling offense, and talked to her. She was Queen Ti Meminne, of the Island of La Gonave. She learned that his name was Faustin.

GREENE COUNTIAN ELECTED MAY QUEEN FOR COLLEGE RITES

Miss Sarah Rumbaugh, senior at Cedarville College, has been elected "May Queen" of the college to reign at Cedar Day exercises on the campus Wednesday, June 3 at 9 a. m. The vote was cast by the entire student body this week.

The crowning of the May queen is the main feature of the annual Cedar Day exercises and Miss Rumbaugh will be crowned by Miss Lucille Tanner, near Xenia, last year's queen.

Miss Rumbaugh is the daughter of T. E. Rumbaugh, near Bellbrook, and is a graduate of Cedarville High School. She was captain of the girls' basketball team this year and is a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. She is also a member of the college's Philosophic Literary Society. She is taking an arts-education course and is working toward her bachelor of arts degree.

Wendell Boyer, Robert Collins and Albert Turner, seniors, tied in the election of a Cedar Day orator and another vote will be taken by the student body soon to determine the winner.

VETERAN ACTRESS DIES IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, April 11.—Mrs. Etta Martin 72, one of the best known Shakespearian actresses of a score of years ago under the name of Etta Henry, was dead here today.

Running away from her home in Medina, O., at the age of 13, the stage-struck girl obtained a small part in a troupe playing in Cleveland. She reached stardom at the age of 20 when she played "The Lion and the Mouse" in New York City. At one time she played opposite Otis Skinner in "Romeo and Juliet."

She died here at the home of a niece following a year's illness.

DIES IN GRAVE

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., April 11.—

Sherman Huston, 70-year-old sexton of Carmel Cemetery near here, fell dead into a grave which he had dug in the cemetery for the name of an Emperor of Haiti, eighty years ago. There was a tradition in the island of "One who is to come." So she foretold their meeting soon again.

Wirkus asked for the detail of being the marine stationed on the island—not because of Queen Ti Meminne, who was extremely fat, and the young marine on his return to New York has clearly expressed his dislike of fat women. Gradually by helping the natives with their problems, he gained the confidence of the negroes, and then by suggestion of Queen Ti Meminne, herself, they decided to declare him king.

The coronation of King Wirkus took place with an elaborate ceremony. Flags flapped over his head, flowers and palm branches were strewn in his path, an enormous yellow silk bandanna was draped around his figure and machetes were laid upon his shoulders. He was carried around the circle, seated in a chair.

Perhaps if his Queen, who was not his wife, was not a squat negress, bulky muscular rather than adipose, big and heavy, and if this boy from Pittston, Pennsylvania did not dislike fat women so much, arrangements may have been made whereby he could have still retained his unique post as White Emperor of La Gonave.

MAYBE I'M WRONG

By John P. Medbury

An inebriate's wife was arrested the other day for shooting her husband. Her defense is that she didn't know he was loaded.

20th Century Efficiency Putting quicksand in the hour glasses to make the time go faster.

Necessary Evils It's too bad the Westinghouse Company doesn't invent an air brake for after-dinner speakers.

Take It Or Leave It Samson must have been an actor. He went around telling everybody how he brought down the house.

Ode To A Bride The groom may be the light of your life, but wait until your light starts going out.

Asap's Fables Sandy MacDonald of Glasgow has just opened a chain of gift shops.

Ace Of Cads The newlywed who had his marriage annulled the next morning because his bride didn't look like the girl in the lingerie ads.

Justifiable Homicide When a young housewife calls up a veterinarian to find out how to stuff a chicken.

Null And Void The dumb dame who thinks a sextant is an instrument that is used in a hospital to tell whether the new baby is going to be a boy or a girl.

Our Own Vaudeville Chauffeur:—Traffic cops must be happy. Footman:—Why? Chauffeur:—They're always whistling at their work.

CHICKEN SUPPER

Trinity M. E. Church

Tuesday April 14

5:30—7:30

Children under 12 yrs. of age. 25c

Adults 50c

LUMBERTON

The Ladies Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. S. D. Chandler, Wednesday afternoon. After a very interesting meeting was held the hostess served a delicious salad course.

Miss Marjorie Rambo entertained fifteen of her friends and schoolmates Sunday afternoon, it being her ninth birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Oglesbee spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Michener spent Friday in Wilmington with Mr. and Mrs. Frank James.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harris of Hillsboro were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Harris and son Tommy.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Conklin spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Grant Conklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Conklin of Wilmington were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. David Linkhart spent the week end in Washington visiting with their friends. Mrs. George Liechman spent last week in Cincinnati visiting relatives.

Wife Preservers

Have your shortening soft before measuring, but not melted. It will then cream more easily.

EAST END NEWS

MRS. JAMES HARRIS Correspondent Tel. 91-R

The annual installation of officers of the Home Aid Society of Xenia, was held at Arnett Hall, Wilberforce Thursday evening with Miss Laura White hostess.

The parlor where the meeting was held was decorated with cut flowers and potted plants for the occasion. After the business the newly elected officers were installed by Mrs. Eva Live. The meeting then adjourned, and the hostess escorted the society to the dining room where they were seated at one long table. During the supper hour the following program was enjoyed: reading, Mrs. Alvira Marchant; instrumental solo, Mrs. Bertha Greene; reading, Mrs. Ray Lewis; vocal solo, Mrs. Carrie Jones; instrumental solo, Miss Rose Murphy. Each number received hearty applause.

Several young ladies of Arnett Hall served the most delicious menu with ease and dignity. The members of the menu committee were as follows: Mrs. Anna Lindsey, Mrs. Belle Raymond, Miss Lettie Scurry, Mrs. Ruth Rountree, Mrs. Sara Jamison, Mrs. Pearl Thompson, with Miss Laura White as chairman.

Mrs. Mattie Price, E. Church St., was agreeably surprised Thursday evening at her home by a number of her neighbors and other friends, the occasion being her seventieth birthday. Many useful tokens were given her and delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Mary Jackson, E. Second St., has received word of the sudden death Wednesday of her brother-in-law, Mr. Alexander Jackson of Springfield. Surviving him are his wife, one son and four daughters. Funeral services were held Saturday with interment in Fern Cliff Cemetery. Mrs. Jackson and her daughter-in-law, Mrs.

Lena Jackson of Chicago, attended the services.

The Third Baptist Church was filled to capacity Friday afternoon with sorrowing relatives and friends to attend the funeral services of Mr. Henry W. Gales. The Rev. A. M. Howe, his former pastor, now of Pittsburgh, Pa., preached the funeral sermon. The Rev. C. T. Isom, Columbus, O., executive secretary of the general association, was present and made a few remarks. The junior choir of the church furnished appropriate music. Resolutions from the Church, Sunday School Workers Association and the class of 1894 were presented. The floral tributes were many and many out-of-town persons were in attendance.

Mrs. Della Saunders of Jasper Ave., has returned having spent the winter with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Saunders, Chicago, Ill.

Rev. and Mrs. Hester, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Russell Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Turner and Mr. C. C. Turner attended the funeral of their nephew Mr. John Turner in Springfield, O., Wednesday.

Rev. Harris, pastor of 2nd Baptist Church, Springfield, assisted by Rev. Hester, officiated.

MIDDLE RUN BAPTIST CHURCH 10:45, Sermon by pastor, after which he will baptize.

2:15, Sunday School; Brother J. T. Roundtree, superintendent.

3:30, The pastor will preach and install officers of the Missionary Society.

6:30, B. Y. P. U.; Master J. W. Finch, president.

7:30, Sermon by pastor. The installation services of the pastor of Middle Run Baptist Church will begin Monday evening April 13. Rev. H. C. Scott will preach and his choir will sing. Service begins at 7:30.

THIRD BAPTIST CHURCH 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.

10:45 a. m., Worship and sermon by the Rev. Mr. Tate of Dayton, O. Baptizing after sermon.

2:30 p. m., Communion service and hand of fellowship.

6:30 p. m., B. Y. P. U.; Mrs. Simms, president.

7:45 p. m., Special sermon by the Rev. W. A. Stewart. Subject, "The Divine Invitation." Supper will be served Saturday evening at 5 o'clock at the Third Baptist Church, given by the Sunday School Training Class.

ZION BAPTIST CHURCH Sabbath School, 9:30 a. m.; James Peters, superintendent.

Preaching, 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. by the Rev. Curtis Greenfield.

B. Y. P. U., 6:15 p. m.; Mrs. A. C. Hawkins, president.

Group Two program leader, Mr. Charles Smith. Discussion of topic, "How Far Dare We Practice The Brotherhood of Man?" Matthew 23:8-12, Mr. James Dickerson.

Don't fail to see "The Face at the Window." It's a real mystery at East High School Thursday evening, April 16. All are invited.

First A. M. E. Church

Rev. S. A. Amos, Pastor Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous for praise is comely for the upright.

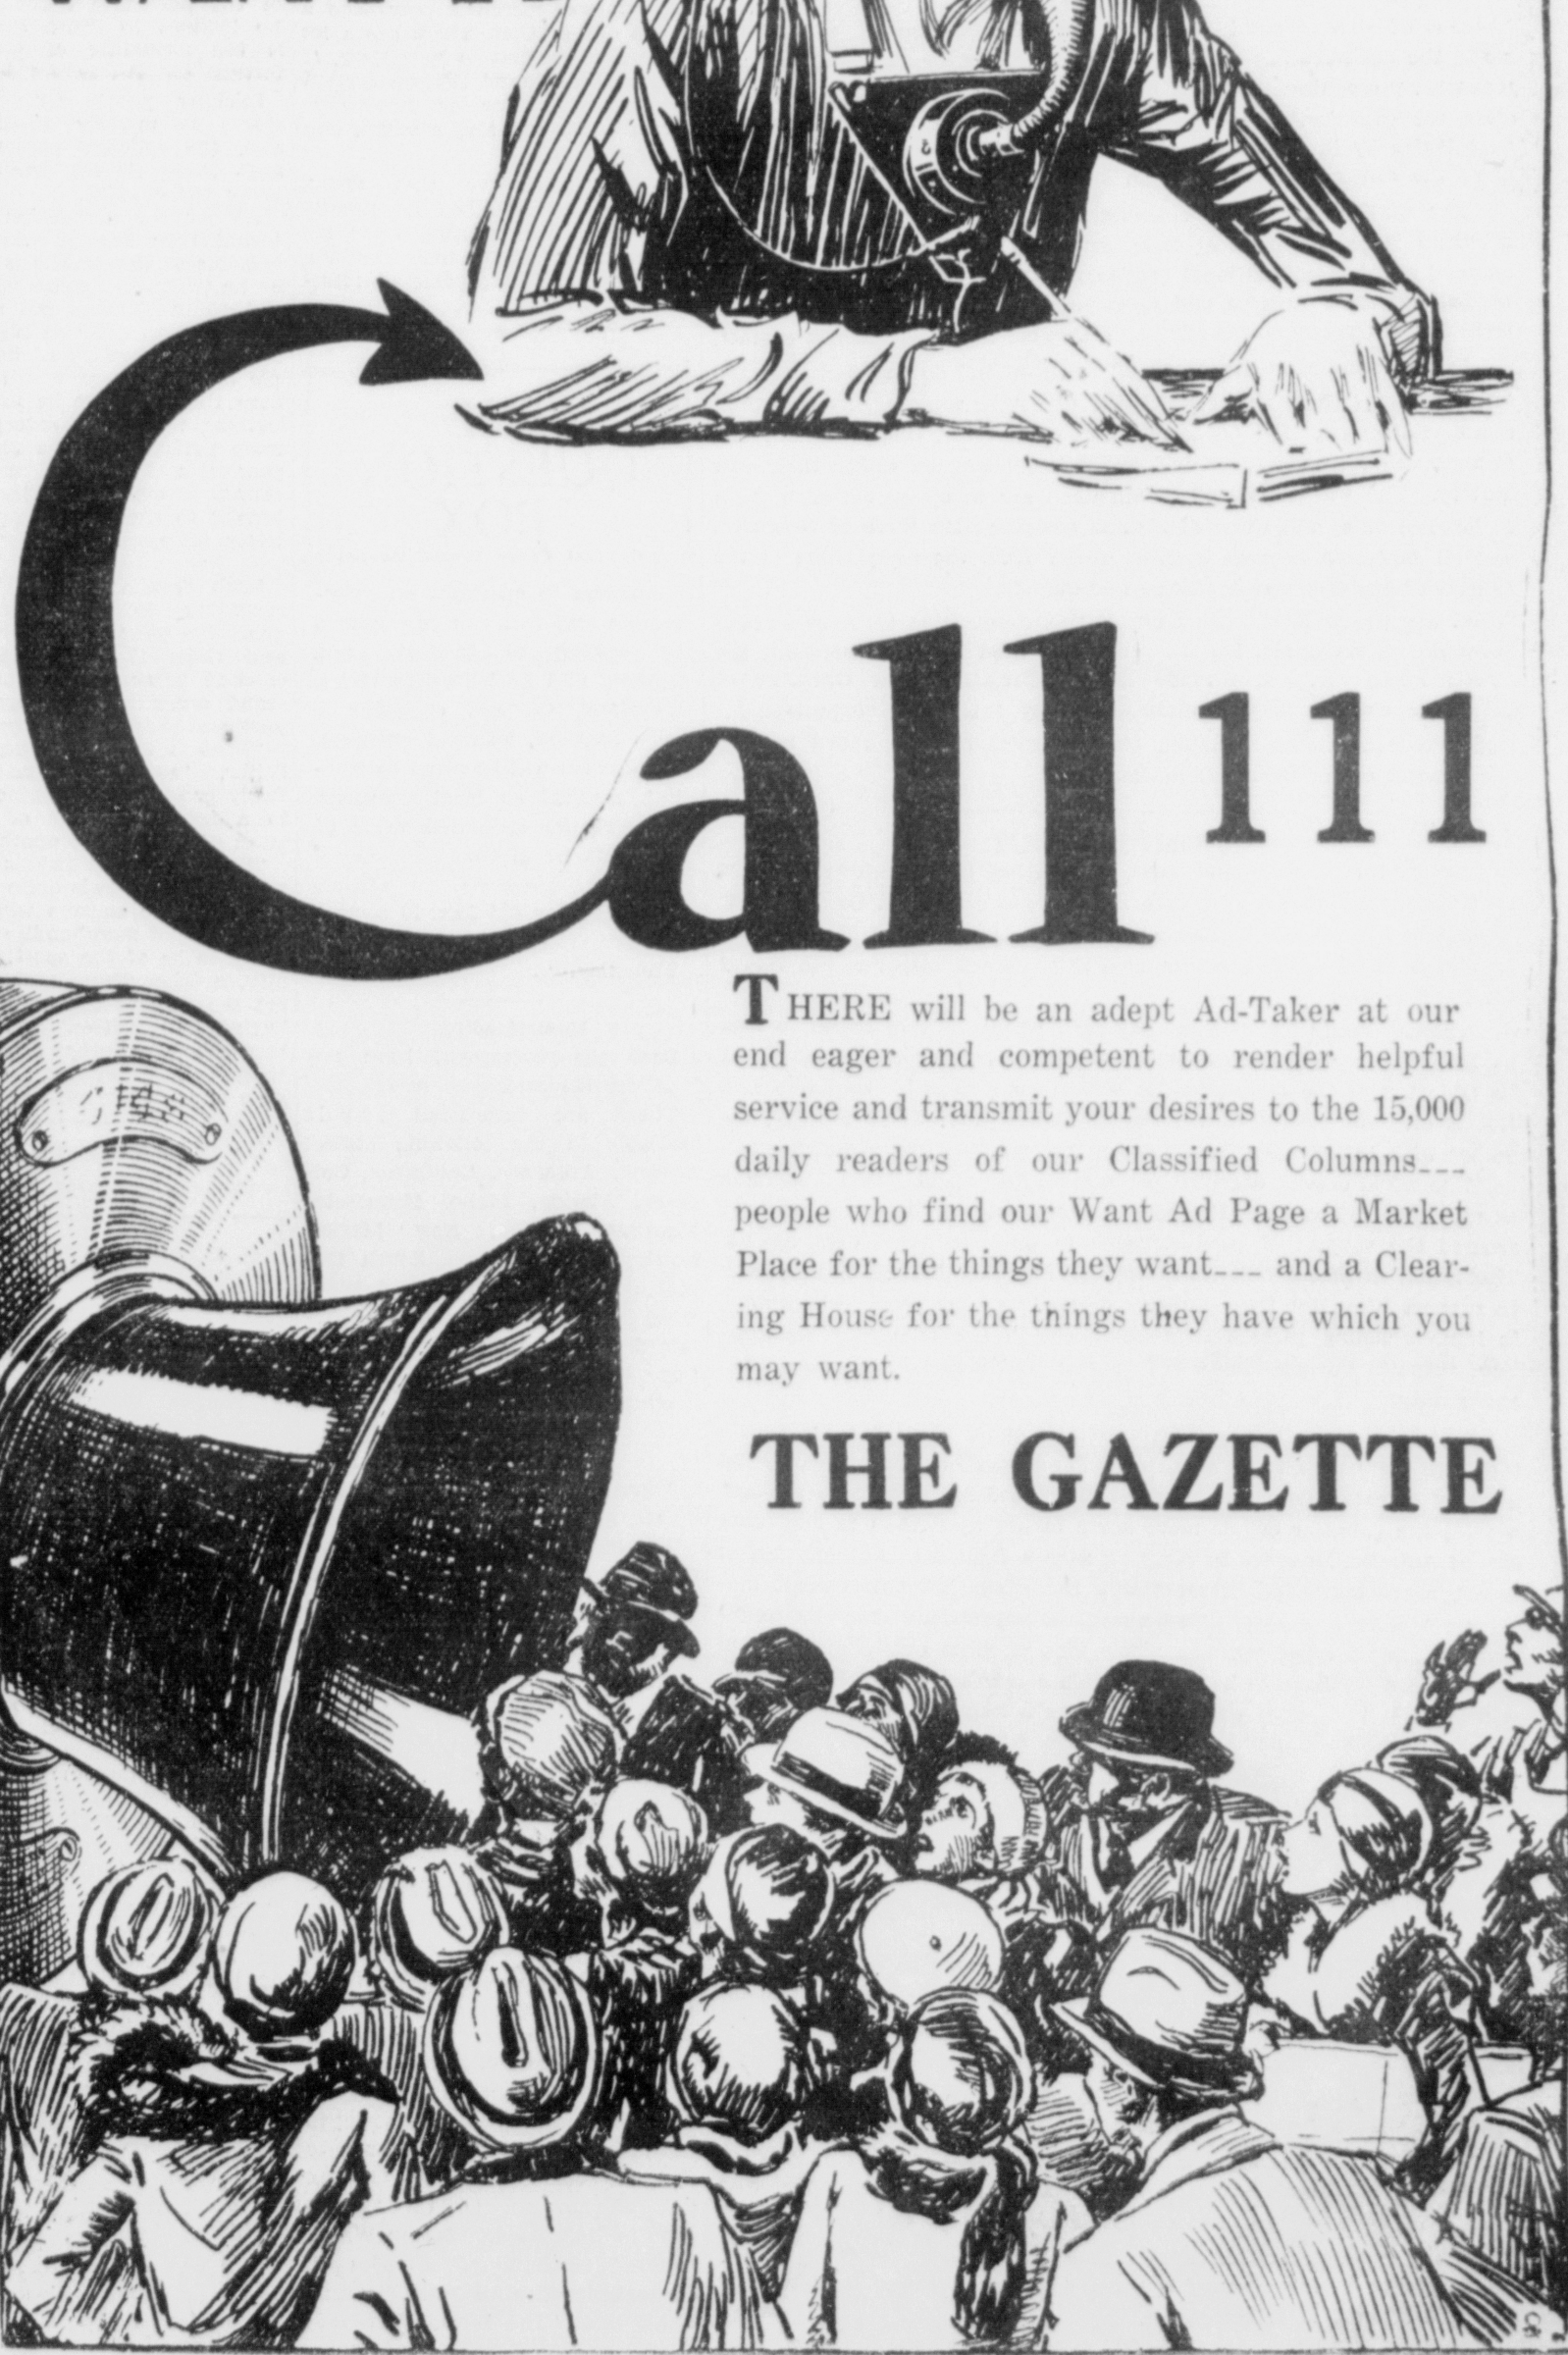

Morning worship 10:45, theme, "The Christian Desire." The Junior choir will sing at this service, all members of the junior choir be present on time.

12:30 Sunday School Archie Newsome, superintendent. Lesson text, There is joy in the presence of angels of God over one sinner that repenteth—Luke 15:10.

6:30 A. C. League hour Miss Edith Holland, president. A program is store for those present on time.

7:30 service hour, theme, "The living Christ." Keep in mind the meeting at First A. M. E. Church beginning on April 20th 8 p. m. each evening we will have to present to you, and on the 24th the service will close with a mock conference given under the auspices of the Allen Christian League of which Miss Edith Holland is president. A laugh in every act don't miss this mock conference.

to get what you WANT when you WANT IT

THERE will be an adept Ad-Taker at our end eager and competent to render helpful service and transmit your desires to the 15,000 daily readers of our Classified Columns... people who find our Want Ad Page a Market Place for the things they want... and a Clearing House for the things they have which you may want.

THE GAZETTE

FEATURES : Views and News Comment : EDITORIAL

The Gazette is published morning and evening except Sunday at the Gazette Building, South Detroit Street, Xenia, Ohio, by The Chew Publishing Company, Inc. Entered as second class matter under act of March 9, 1879 at the Postoffice, Xenia, Ohio.

Members of Ohio Select List Daily Newspapers. John W. Cullen Co., National Advertising Representatives; Chicago office, No. 8 S. Michigan Ave.; New York office, 501 Fifth Ave., New York City; Detroit office General Motors Bldg.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES	1 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
In Greene County	$.40	$ 1.00	$ 1.80	$ 3.50
Zones 1 and 2	.45	1.15	2.15	4.00
Zones 3, 4 and 5	.50	1.30	2.40	4.50
Zones 6 and 7	.55	1.45	2.65	5.00
Zone 8	.60	1.50	2.80	5.50

By carrier in Xenia, 15c Per Week, Single Copy, Three Cents

TELEPHONES

Advertising and Business Office	111
Editorial Department	70
Circulation Department	800

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity! It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard: that went down to the skirts of his garments.—Psalm cxxxiii, 1, 2.

PASSES ON

The passing of Nicholas Longworth, Wednesday, removes a distinctly major figure from our public life.

His career was one of true distinction and of honorable public usefulness. A conservative Republican throughout his life, he served his party with loyalty, dignity and effectiveness. His attitude toward political adversaries was one of fairness and respect.

Three times he was elected to the great office of Speaker of the House of Representatives, and had he lived he would doubtless again have become the Speaker upon the convening of the newly elected Congress.

Widely mentioned for the presidency in 1927, he was a man whom his party delighted to honor, and so amiable and appealing was his human side that even his opponents derived pleasure from the honors that he received.

His nature was rich and many-sided; his character had strength and stature; his code was that of a gentleman.

And his death is mourned by all, not only among the large circle of his intimates, but in the larger world of public life, where friend and foe, alike, are conscious of their loss.

NOT ORGANIZED

Experience in managing the affairs of the Federal Farm Board seems to have developed in the mind of Alexander H. Legge some interesting economic theories. Yielding to the temptation which besets all retiring public officials, Mr. Legge in Chicago recently addressed the Junior Chamber of Commerce and tried to diagnose the case of depressed American agriculture.

"The trouble with agriculture," said the former Farm Board director, "is that it is an unorganized enterprise trying to compete with the more highly organized commercial group."

One could wish that Mr. Legge could bring forth something more original from his advantageous point of view. Everyone for the past half century who has had some special reason to wish to curry favor with the farmers has told them they were the unorganized victims of designing organizations.

Out of this constant repetition came the movement which has made the agriculturists perhaps the most highly, or at least the most numerous organized, group of producers in the world. Merely to enumerate the organizations which have exclusively farmer membership or that thrive by in one way or another farming the farmers, would require the construction of quite an extensive catalog.

The outstanding and surpassing achievement of these organizing activities is in the political field, evidenced by numerous expensively manned and housed "national headquarters" maintained at the Nation's capital; all sorts of blocs and near-parties in Congress, and a department in the Government headed by a member in the President's cabinet.

In just what way this "lack of organization" on the part of the farmers brings them into competition with "the more highly organized commercial group," Mr. Legge does not make clear. Unquestionably the farmers suffer from competition, but it is competition within their own industry. The wheat growers of Michigan are in competition with those of Pennsylvania, and those of Kansas compete with those of Nebraska, and all American farmers together suffer from the competition of the farmers of Australia and Argentina and Canada.

It was the problem arising out of this competition that the Federal Farm Board, under Mr. Legge's guidance, tried to deal with. But the speech which Mr. Legge made to the Chicago Junior Chamber of Commerce did not help to understand why this latest "organization," empowered by almost unlimited Governmental backing, failed to help the farmers out of their difficulties.

THOMPSON OUT

The further the machine rises, the further it can fall when the contraption goes into a nose dive and the gas given out. So "Big Bill" Thompson has hit the bottom with a thud. He is buried out of sight, he said it would be his last campaign to be elected mayor of the Windy City, and it was.

Tuesday really was a great day for Chicago. It had begun to look as though the town were hopelessly sunk, and never could get rid of its Old Man of the Sea unless he relaxed his grip of his own free will. But it did, and it has earned the congratulations of the country, together with best wishes. Its reputation has gone up several notches too.

The world outside doesn't know a great deal about Anton J. Cermak except that he runs the Democratic organization in Cook county, and secured the support of good elements in Chicago in his fight against Thompson. So that thousands of Republicans quit their party allegiance to support him. But the character of many of the people who turned to him, including persons once prominent in the Thompson organization, suggests the prevalence of public confidence in his disposition and ability.

Certainly the Chicago mayor-elect is going to have a big opportunity to serve his city in a big way. The municipal finances can stand a lot of attention and readjustment. The need for a fight to a finish against the gangster evil is more acute in the town than in any other city of America. In order to carry on such a fight with any prospect of success, a reorganization of practically the whole law enforcement machinery will be necessary, unless prevalent impressions about its condition are grossly mistaken. The whole idea of what constitutes duty in public office will have to be changed. It's a man's job that Mr. Cermak is facing. If he does it well he will make a name for himself all over the nation.

If the wets would quit sneering at the dries for being dries and the dries would quit deriding the wets for being wets and both would try to be reasonable, maybe the country would get somewhere with the prohibition question.

Paris has been suffering from what is described as a blackish pall of fog. The French can't blame that on the United States. It's London that breeds fogs.

It may be, as a health expert says, that hearty laughter is an enemy of the flu. At the same time, the flu is nothing to sneeze at.

If John J. Raskob may not speak for the Democratic party, who does have the right? He puts up the money, doesn't he?

If justice in this country is a derision among thugs, it is because we have allowed it to become so.

Bo-Broadway

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

REFORMERS AGAIN

They're going to try to prohibit, by Federal and State intervention, motion pictures that glorify gangsters, gunmen and underworld characters generally. Pictures of this sort, say the Experts, are "poisoning the minds of the children of the country and are, to a great extent, responsible for the nation-wide wave of juvenile crime."

Of course, that's a lie. Pictures of that type haven't a bloom in thing to do with "juvenile crime." The kids have lost the way because so many grown-ups have slipped off the trail. In a country that's afflicted with a Want of Standards, how do you expect the kids to be anything but far from heaven?

Al Capone, the national hero says in an interview with a newspaper man:

"If you'd see some of the big men who have their feet in my trough, you'd believe as I do that no one is on the leg."

That statement was broadcast some months ago and to date, no big man in the land has had sufficient moral indignation to get up on his hind legs and challenge the gangster's statement.

Worrying about "gangster movies" under the circumstances, is very much like a man with a gangrened foot fretting about having a tooth filled.

SENSE OF HUMOR?

A New York book reviewer tells this one:

A colleague and friend astonished him the other day by answering the telephone in his apartment and saying yes, that was Weidenschmertz's Butcher Shop and what did you want? Four roasting chickens and an eight-pound leg of lamb. Very well, yes, we'll send it right over.

When the book reviewer dramatized the situation to his friend and told him of the probable unhappiness of the cook who would discover that her supplies had never been ordered, he shrugged his shoulders, laughed and said: "Well, what can I do for fun? A certain amount of lunacy is necessary. I'm tired of getting it vicariously by listening to Jimmy Durante. I'd like to upset a thousand cooks and housewives and marriages and business houses—only you can't these days."

The reason I'm commenting on this is that the book reviewer didn't apparently see anything venal and cowardly in his friend's attitude. It was merely a pose—and a cheap one at that. There are a lot of scoundrels like that in New York. If they really believed that "a certain amount of lunacy is necessary" they'd go up and slap a traffic cop on the snoot.

But you'll observe that young thrill hunters of that ilk usually exercise extreme caution when selecting an outlet for their emotion. Their victim is incapable of retaliation.

THE QUESTION BOX

Central Press Wash. Bureau

Answers to questions on information and fact can be obtained by writing to Central Press Bureau, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O., and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. No answers will be given to marital, medical or legal questions, nor will the estimated value of old coins be given.

On what day did Jan. 10 come in 1884?
Thursday.

Homesteading

Does the government have any land for homesteading now?

There are homestead lands available in the following states: Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. Information may be obtained from the General Land Office, Department of Interior, Washington, D. C.

World's Fair

When was the last World's Fair? When will the next one be held? The last great exhibition of this nature was the Sesqui-Centennial at Philadelphia, in 1926. The next fair will be the Paris International Colonial and Overseas exposition, during the summer of 1931.

Bill Seal

What do the words "Thesaur Amer Septem Sigi," found on a one dollar bill, mean?

This is an abbreviation for Thesauri Americae Septem Sigi, meaning, Seal of the Treasury of North America. It appears on all United States paper money.

(NOTE: The following pamphlets may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin and a large stamped self-addressed envelope for each to Central Press Bureau, P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C.: "Who's Who in Hollywood," "Seeing Washington," "Swimming," Charles P. Stewart's treatise on "Our Government," and "The World War.")

TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE

FAKE MEDICINE SWINDLE MEANEST TYPE OF FRAUD THAT UNCLE SAM FIGHTS

CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Of all the frauds practiced or attempted through Uncle Sam's mails, Assistant Solicitor Walter E. Kelly of the postoffice department says he inclines to think the meanest is the swindling of gullible unfortunates with fake medicines.

Sticking people with worthless stocks is mightily small business also, the solicitor agrees, but at least these victims' health is not being trifled with.

As for the circulation of counterfeit race lottery tickets, reprehensible as this traffic is and hard as he tries to suppress it, the official admits it does not arouse his indignation to quite so high a pitch as the bamboozling of honest people out of money which they believe themselves to be investing in legitimate business enterprises, or more particularly, the cheating of poor sick folk with dope which cannot possibly be of the slightest benefit to them and may be positively injurious.

Such "grifts" seldom last long, according to Kelly; complaints generally come in sooner or later, and then, if it is evident some crooked game is being played, a fraud order is issued by the department and that stops it. "That is to say," added the solicitor, "complaints usually are fairly prompt if the swindle relates to a snide medicine of valueless stock of one sort or another.

"Phony racing tickets are not productive of howls quite so speedily, since the suckers who fall for that class of merchandise are more likely to be of the sporting fraternity, a tribe whose representatives are sensitive to the humiliation of having been 'bitten' and probably keep their mouths shut often rather than, rather than confess to such ignominy."

Do these fakirs—the bogus race countries. Much of the literature relating to worthless stocks—notably oil shares—also is of foreign origin. Obviously we cannot go abroad to push prosecutions.

Now, as to fraud orders—do they invariably stick?

"The department does not make many mistakes," said Kelly. "Our investigations are exceedingly careful and thorough."

"Lottery tickets—race lotteries or any other kind, counterfeit or genuine—are denied transmission through the mails altogether. If a fraud order is issued against a lottery concern, and it is a lottery concern, there can be no question of error."

"And so-called medicines which are guaranteed as infallible for any complaint the patient wants to have cured, from cancer to falling hair—it is not easy to go wrong concerning them, either. I recall only one instance, out of hundreds relating to cure-alls, in which a fraud order was set aside by the courts on appeal. The so-called treatment was of a magnetic character and the court held that its efficacy was a matter of opinion."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

By MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

Pot Roast of Beef or Lamb Stew With Vegetables
Cabbage-Apple Salad Rice Pudding
Coffee or Tea

Today's Recipes

Pot Roast of Beef.—Cuts of beef suitable for pot roasting are chuck ribs, cross arm, clod, round and rump. Select a piece from four to six pounds in weight. Wipe with a damp cloth. Rub the meat with salt, pepper and flour. Brown the meat on all sides in a heavy kettle, using about three tablespoons of beef fat. Slip a low rack under the meat, add one-half cup of water, cover tightly, and simmer until tender. The time required for cooking cannot be definitely stated, but it will probably be about three hours. Turn the roast occasionally. When the meat is done remove from the kettle, skim off the excess fat from the liquid, and measure the remainder. For each cup of gravy desired, measure two tablespoons of fat and return to the kettle, add one and one-half to two tablespoons of flour and stir until well blended and slightly browned. Then add one cup of the meat stock or of cold water and stir until smooth. Season the gravy with salt, pepper and chopped parsley. Serve the pot roast on a hot platter with buttered carrots and stuffed onions. If desired, any of the following vegetables may be cooked in the pot with the roast: Carrots, celery, onions, potatoes, tomatoes and turnips. Add the vegetables during the last hour of cooking the meat.

Lamb Stew.—Two pounds lean raw lamb, two tablespoons butter or other fat, one-half cup sliced onion, three cups diced rutabaga turnip, one green pepper, chopped; one quart water, flour salt and pepper. Breast, shoulder, neck, flank and trimmings are all good for lamb stew. Wipe the meat with a damp cloth, cut into small pieces, and roll in flour. Cook the onion in the fat and add the meat. When the meat and onion have browned delicately, transfer them to a kettle, and add the water, after first pouring it into the skillet so as to get full benefit of the browned fat. Cover, and simmer for one hour. Then add the turnip, green pepper and seasonings, and cook 20 minutes longer. If the stew is not thick enough add one tablespoon of flour mixed with two tablespoons of cold water, and cook for several minutes longer, stirring constantly. Serve piping hot with browned potatoes.

Statistics Show Danger Of Obesity

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

What actually happens in pounds and ounces on dietary treatment for overweight is shown in the statistics of a clinic for such persons.

It is worth noting that it was an ambulatory clinic. That means the patients lived at home, calculated or at least prepared their meals there. This is important. The best results in the treatment of overweight are obtained by putting the patient in a hospital or institution, especially adapted to nutrition treatments. But this clinic proves that weight can be reduced by home treatment.

The patient is kept on the treatment by repeated explanations of the dangers of obesity. Obesity has an adverse effect on longevity; statistics of life insurance companies show that a person weighing 5 to 10 pounds more than normal has a life expectancy ratio of 100 per cent, while one who is 35 to 45 pounds overweight has a life expectancy ratio of 153 per cent. Obesity is associated with diabetes, high blood pressure, gallstones and heart failure. It makes the surgical patient a poorer risk and favors the development of hernia after abdominal operations. Orthopedic abnormalities of the feet are aggravated by overweight.

The treatment in the clinic consisted of diet, exercise and, in a few cases, the use of thyroid extract. The daily food allowance was 100 grams of carbohydrate, 70 of protein and 60 of fat.

The exercise advised was daily walking two miles in 45 minutes or less, and calisthenics lasting 10 minutes morning and night. Ordinary housework was not found to be an efficient substitute for systematic exercises.

Under this routine 183 patients were treated. About 86 per cent and them lost weight. There was no weight loss in about 14 per cent. Sixty-seven patients lost 10 pounds, 33 lost between 10 and 15 pounds, 16 lost between 15 and 20 pounds, 15 lost between 20 and 25 pounds, 27 lost 25 pounds. The average weight loss was 15 pounds. One interesting result of the treatment was that half the patients had lower blood pressure after the treatment.

There were 167 women and 16 men in the clinic. The reasons given for this disparity are that the women's duties interfere less in their attendance at a morning clinic, that women place more importance on appearance than men, and that obesity is probably more frequent in women than in men.

A sample diet used in this clinic is as follows:

Breakfast: One-half grapefruit or one moderate sized orange or apple or one-half cup strawberries; two eggs; coffee or tea with one-fourth cup milk; saccharin, and one thin slice of bread.

Lunch: Five per cent vegetables, two cups; one egg; one medium sized apple or one orange; one cup of two tablespoons of milk.

Dinner: Meat or fish, four and two-thirds ounces (120 grams); 5 per cent vegetables, one cup; 10 per cent vegetables, one cup; one medium sized orange or one cup strawberries; tea.

Editor's Note: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each and a self-addressed stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Trimming Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Glad Happy To Give Advice

By GLADYS GLAD

"DEAR MISS GLAD: I've been using a mixture of almond meal and oatmeal as a substitute for soap in cleansing my skin, and have found it most beneficial. However, I've been told that an effective face mask can also be made of almond meal. Can you tell me how this mask is made and applied?"

"JUSTINE."

The mask to which you refer is generally made of almond meal and milk. Stir a sufficient quantity of milk into half a cupful of almond meal to form a thick paste. Cleanse the skin thoroughly, employing your usual cleansing method, and smooth a bit of nourishing cream around your eyes and at the sides of your mouth. Then apply the paste to the face and neck, and allow it to dry. When it is thoroughly dry, remove the mask with warm water and a soft cloth. Your skin is oily, you may not find it necessary to use a bit of cold cream after administering this mask. But if your skin is dry, it is advisable to apply a little cold cream to your face and neck after the mask is removed.

"DEAR MISS GLAD: I have achieved such success in following the instructions for eradicating dandruff contained in your 'Beauty Culture' booklet, that it is but natural that I turn to you when in need of further advice. My skin this time. Every once in a while pimples appear on my face, deep under the skin. They do not come to the surface, and when I attempt to squeeze them, I bruise them badly. How should such pimples be treated?"

"PATTY C."

Pimples generally have their beginnings in the condition of the blood, and their primary treatment is internal. If these blemishes appear on your skin, you should modify your diet with attention to better climatic conditions. Consume large quantities of fruits and vegetables. Drink eight to ten glasses of water a day. Eat figs, dates, oranges, spinach, agar and bran to cleanse the intestines of poisons. You should never attempt to press a blind pimple. The poisons are gathered too far under the skin. The only thing that you can do is massage around the pimply area and thus stimulate the blood to

Some of the alleged "permanent" lipsticks contain ingredients that are drying to the lips. If you are using such a lipstick, it may be responsible for the continual chapping. Apply a generous coating of cold cream, lanolin or camphor ice to your lips before retiring each night. Use a greasy lipstick during the daytime. Take care that your lips are always well greased. This treatment will help to alleviate the chapping, and will keep your lips soft and smooth.

"Dear Miss Glad: I have lovely, long, curly lashes, but as they are rather light, they are not very noticeable. Therefore, I've decided to use a bit of mascara to darken them. Could you tell me the most effective method of applying this cosmetic?"

HELENE C.

Before applying the mascara, it is wise to brush a bit of vaseline on the lashes. This furnishes a much smoother surface for the application of the preparation. Apply the mascara over this. Brushing it slowly and carefully from the lids to the tips of the lashes. Then, using the tip of your finger, remove any excess of the mascara. At the same time, curling the lashes upward. A final application of vaseline will give the lashes an excellent gloss.

Editor's Note: While it is impossible for Miss Glad to answer beauty questions by mail, she will be happy to send you her pamphlets on "The New Figure" and "Beauty Culture" if you will write her, care of this paper, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for each, to cover cost of printing and handling. For the articles on "Care of the Hands and Nails" and "Care of the Feet and Legs," 2 cents in coin for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope are required. Personal questions on beauty will be answered through Miss Glad's daily column.

Petting Mate Wrecks Wife's Faith

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

"Dear Virginia Lee: My husband is a cheat and a liar. He denies that he has this habit. I never paid any attention to his silly flirtations, they all seemed so harmless until recently."

"We have a friend we see quite often. We visit back and forth. Some time ago we four—me, my husband, she and her husband, visited the theater. I followed the usher, my husband followed, then my friend and her husband. During the performance I became suspicious of my husband. I asked him whether he was squeezing her arm, and he denied it. We dropped the matter. Six weeks later we called at their home. This time my suspicions were confirmed."

"He tried to lie out of it, but it didn't work. I told him I was seeing a lawyer first thing in the morning. It brought him to his senses. He confessed and begged forgiveness. He declares he loves me, and if he does I don't see why he should do those things. I feel as though I can never trust him again."

"We have been married 16 years and have four children. He always has been a good husband. He said the other woman didn't mean a thing to him, but they all say the same thing when they get in deep water. I am seriously thinking of separating from him. Would you advise me to? I hate to think my husband is a cheat and a liar. THANK YOU."

It does hurt like the dickens, doesn't it, when one finds the person one has trusted is a "cheat and a liar?" One never can have perfect faith in that person again.

But I don't think this incident should cause you to break up your home and deprive your children of their father. He's been foolish, not wicked. He thought he was getting a thrill out of flirting with this other woman, and she got a kick out of a little surreptitious petting with a man other than her husband. I don't suppose it meant much to either.

Try to forgive and forget, and help your husband to overcome this silly little tendency. Be sure you are never lacking in affection toward him. Flirt with him. Recall the little ways in which you used to charm him. Don't be merely the mother and housewife. Be your husband's sweetheart. See!

BLUE EYES: There is nothing to be done if you prefer your cousin to you. Try not to show your hurt feelings and wait to see how things come out.

MAC: Write to the girl, Mac, and see how she feels about matters by this time. She may miss you as much as you miss her. If not, you will have to make the best of it and try to find another girl friend.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

FRAMED
by Phil

The ten teams which will face softball circles are theoretically more evenly matched than has been the case in former years.

The six teams which are apparent ball circles are theoretically more evenly matched than has been the case in former years.

The Lang Chevrolet Co., 1930 city softball champions, is, of course, the hand-out entrant in the field but the champs may be extended to the limit to retain their title because numerous other teams will undoubtedly be in the thick of the fight all summer.

Sometime next week the Softball Commission members will go into a huddle and decide how the ten teams will be grouped into the two leagues, six teams in the National and four teams in the American.

At least it is supposed the same procedure will be followed as last season.

Which teams will compose each league is still a matter of guess work, but it may be presumed the commission will endeavor, by analyzing the eligibility lists, to place the barrier this season in Xenia by the strongest in the National and the remaining four entries in the American.

The Lang Chevrolet Co., Downtown Country Club, Graham Paints and the new Red Wing Co. entry appear certain choices for the National League, with the Critteron, Wood's Barber Shop, Krippendorf-Dittmann Co. and St. Bridg Church also given consideration. It would appear that Patterson's Central High boys and All-Stars are just as certain to be enrolled in the American League.

Bill Baxley, manager of the champion Lang Chevrolet softball team, is convinced the new twelve-player eligibility rule adopted for the present softball season was formulated and voted upon favorably by the other teams with the hope of weakening the city title-holders this year.

Bill, however, is not worrying. On the contrary he believes he will have the last laugh. It is his opinion that Langs will have ten players available for every game this season often than opposing teams. "We will always have a full team on the field by the time play is called," Bill prophesies. He questions whether rival teams will be able to have a full lineup on hand with the same degree of regularity as his own team.

Central's Junior high basketball team, during the recent season, made an impressive court record, winning fourteen games and losing only four. The squad was coached by H. G. Patterson whose ability is reflected by the fine record his boys compiled.

Central Juniors won their first nine games before losing to Cedarville, a defeat which was later avenged. Patterson's "pets" also lost to McClain High Juniors of Greenfield, Port William and Monroe, being defeated by Monroe in the finals of an invitational Junior high tournament at Arcanum. Here is the team's record for the season:

Central, 24; Waynesville, 11; Central, 24; Washington C. H., 19; Central, 21; New Antioch, 7; Central, 25; Jamestown, 5; Central, 24; Bryan, 2; Central, 19; Snyder Park (Springfield), 14; (overtime); Central, 37; O. S. & S. O. Home, 26; Central, 20; Springfield Valley, 14; Central, 27; Centerville, 18; Central, 6; Cedarville, 20; Central, 29; O. S. & S. O. Home, 11; Central, 17; Bryan Juniors, 16; Central, 21; Cedarville, 19; Central, 22; McClain High, 24; Central, 22; McClain High, 24; (two overtimes); Central, 11; Port William, 15; Tourney; Central, 20; New Madison, 10; Central, 41; Ansonia, 5; Central, 6; Monroe, 20.

XENIA AND URBANA OPEN RELATIONS

Xenia Central High and Urbana, which have not met on the gridiron since 1927, have signed a two-year football agreement for games to be staged on Thanksgiving Day both seasons, the Buccaneers playing on the Urbana gridiron this fall and Urbana appearing at Cox Field on Turkey Day in 1932.

During recent grid campaigns Xenia has had Springfield as its Thanksgiving Day opponent while Urbana has been in the habit of meeting Bellefontaine in the season's finale. Springfield and Bellefontaine have been dropped from the respective schedules of the two schools.

Under terms of the two-year contract, the schools will split the gate receipts of the two games, expenses not being guaranteed either year.

CEDARVILLE OPENS WITH KENTUCKIANS

Cedarville College's baseball squad, in charge of Coach Marvin Borst, departed Saturday morning for Morehead, Ky., where the Yellow-Jackets were scheduled to open their spring diamond season in the afternoon against the Morehead College nine.

With no men available for every position except two outfielders, Cedarville hopes to experience a successful baseball season.

XENIA BOWLERS ARE LEADING PIN MEET BEING HELD AT TROY

Competing in the doubles and singles divisions of an invitational bowling tournament in progress at Troy, two Xenia pin-smiths rolled into first place in both divisions Friday night.

Hollis Peterson, high average bowler in the Xenia Recreation League this season, recorded a series of 625 to take first place in the individual classic, while Howard Brickel, another Xenia mineralite artist, placed well up among the singles leaders with a three-game total of 585.

Peterson and Brickel then teamed together to register a combined total of 1,105, good enough to give them first place in the two-man event. Both are members of the Greene County Lumber Co. bowling team, annual city champions. Here are their scores in the singles and doubles:

singles and doubles.
Two-Man Event.
Brickel	179	209	191
Peterson	162	194	170
<hr/>
Totals	341	403	361
Grand total	1,105
Singles Event.
Peterson	169	258	198-625
Brickel	190	199	196-585

FATE OF MEASURE TO LEGALIZE PAYMENT IS UNCERTAIN HERE

Fate of a bill introduced in the lower branch of the Ohio legislature by Representative R. D. Williamson, Greene County, designed to legalize payment by the city of damages to two Xenia girls as compensation for injuries they suffered in a fire truck-automobile collision December 20, 1929, was uncertain Saturday.

The legislature recessed after a closing session which lasted throughout the night and Representative Williamson, who came to Xenia early Friday afternoon and did not return to Columbus, had not been advised Saturday whether the measure had been voted upon by the House or had been sidetracked for more important legislation.

The author of the bill, however, expressed confidence the measure was not lost in the eleventh hour shuffle, pointing out it ranked fifth on the House calendar of bills scheduled for consideration Friday.

The bill in question would legalize payment of not more than $1,000 to Miss Ruth Galliger, 23, of 40 Leaman St., and not more than $600 to Miss Anna Rachford, 19, S. Detroit St., for injuries received in the accident. The roadster in which they were riding was wrecked by a fire truck which speeded across the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad crossing on S. Detroit St. in front of a westbound train.

Virgil Jenkins and Paul Bottorff paired together to defeat Joe Windsor and Hoyd Linkhart by two laps Friday night in one of a series of relay races in progress at Morris Sharp's skating rink on the Springfield Pike to determine the champion skating team of Xenia.

Skating over a two-mile route, the Jenkins-Bottorff team negotiated the distance in nine minutes and ten seconds, establishing a new record for the present elimination tournament.

The tourney was started Friday night a week ago when the team of Paul Jones and Donald Wright won its opening race.

Do You Know 'Em?

Central, 24; Waynesville, 11; Central, 24; Washington C. H., 19; Central, 21; New Antioch, 7; Central, 25; Jamestown, 5; Central, 24; Bryan, 2; Central, 19; Snyder Park (Springfield), 14; (overtime); Central, 37; O. S. & S. O. Home, 26; Central, 20; Springfield Valley, 14; Central, 27; Centerville, 18; Central, 6; Cedarville, 20; Central, 29; O. S. & S. O. Home, 11; Central, 17; Bryan Juniors, 16; Central, 21; Cedarville, 19; Central, 22; McClain High, 24; Central, 22; McClain High, 24; (two overtimes); Central, 11; Port William, 15; Tourney; Central, 20; New Madison, 10; Central, 41; Ansonia, 5; Central, 6; Monroe, 20.

Xenia Central High and Urbana, which have not met on the gridiron since 1927, have signed a two-year football agreement for games to be staged on Thanksgiving Day both seasons, the Buccaneers playing on the Urbana gridiron this fall and Urbana appearing at Cox Field on Turkey Day in 1932.

During recent grid campaigns Xenia has had Springfield as its Thanksgiving Day opponent while Urbana has been in the habit of meeting Bellefontaine in the season's finale. Springfield and Bellefontaine have been dropped from the respective schedules of the two schools.

Under terms of the two-year contract, the schools will split the gate receipts of the two games, expenses not being guaranteed either year.

Cedarville College's baseball squad, in charge of Coach Marvin Borst, departed Saturday morning for Morehead, Ky., where the Yellow-Jackets were scheduled to open their spring diamond season in the afternoon against the Morehead College nine.

With no men available for every position except two outfielders, Cedarville hopes to experience a successful baseball season.

KNUTE Rockne's BEST STORIES

As told by
DON MILLER
One of the famous Four Horsemen of Notre Dame

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is a series of the late Knute Rockne's best stories with which the late Notre Dame grid leader put a smile into the game of football. They are told by Don Miller, a close friend of Rockne's. Miller was one of the Four Horsemen, Rockne's famous backfield.

Despite the vast number of new boys who came under Knute Rockne's observation each year, he didn't seem to forget any of them.

That is, those who did something or said something out-standing, whether it be heroic or laughable.

That's why so many of Rock's stories included boys not generally remembered by football fans. Humorous incidents that took place in practice were never lost.

In three years of college football even the stars sometimes pull funny stuff. And you can bet that Rock never forgot them. I heard him tell plenty stories about things which happened in my time at Notre Dame but had forgotten them until Rock mentioned them.

There was that one. But I'll tell that some other time.

There were lots of jokes Rockne told about the Four Horsemen, the 1924 backfield of which it was my fortunate lot to be a member. Some of Rock's Horsemen jokes were on the Horsemen, but not all of them. I remember one that wasn't. And if you'll pardon me, I'll tell it.

Some time after the 1924 season in which Notre Dame was undefeated and united a friend met Rock and started chatting football with him.

"Say," asked the friend, "is it true that the Horsemen backfield averaged in weight only 160 pounds?"

"That's right," answered Rock. "But didn't you have bigger fellows on the squad?" the friend insisted, "more muscular lads who had extra heft the Horsemen lacked?"

"Yes," said Rock. "Yes, I did. There was, for instance, one sub backfield in '24 that averaged 185 pounds per man, 25 pounds per man heavier than the Horsemen."

"Well," the other asked, "why didn't you use them?"

"You see," Rockne grinned, "these big fellows were shall I say, physically incapacitated."

"Injured? All of them? How come?"

"Yes," Rock snapped, "they all had charley horses—between the ears."

Another article Monday. Watch for it!

Bowling

Krippendorf-Dittmann Co., newly crowned champion of the City Bowling League, won three straight games from the Central Acceptance Corp. and the Carroll-Blinder Co. took two out of three from the American Legion in a league double-header Friday night. Box scores:

Krippendorf.
Manor	148	152	195
Flynn	202	122	176
Gullicie	153	159	124
Christ	171	172	169
Dudley	223	163	152
Totals	897	768	826
Central Acceptance.
Crawford	120	130	156
Davis	135	140	150
North	135	133	172
Price	186	131	146
Dummy	115	115	115
Totals	691	656	739
Carroll-Blinder.
Peters	189	119	142
Price	177	158	201
Neville	169	139	156
Vannorsdall	---	---	157
Totals	535	416	656
American Legion.
R. Smith	177	140	192
Burnette	116	207	127
Dummy	115	115	115
Totals	408	462	549

TEAMS HAVE FAILED TO LIST PLAYERS

Although Friday was the deadline date for Xenia softball teams to submit their twelve-player eligibility lists to the Softball Commission, only four lists had been filed when the time expired, according to Walker Gibney, president of the Xenia Playground Association.

The remainder of the lists are expected to be received Saturday and the commission will probably hold a meeting early next week to group the ten teams into two leagues and draw up a season's schedule for both circuits.

The season is scheduled to open Monday, April 20.

NEW YORK, April 11.—For two days Edward Taylor, 31, had had a headache. Finally he called a doctor. But he suddenly decided he could not stand it any longer. He went to the kitchen and jumped out the fourth floor window, killing himself.

FROM NORWAY TO NOTRE DAME—ROCKNE'S EARLY LIFE IN PHOTOS

ROCKNE AS SMALL BOY—This photo, taken about 35 years ago, shows Knute Rockne, dressed in his Sunday best, as a small but sturdy young citizen of Chicago, late from Norway.

ROCKNE AND TENNIS—A budding athlete in early school days, Knute Rockne became a tennis enthusiast. Photo taken approximately three decades ago just before a game.

ROCKNE IN HIGH SCHOOL—A trim young fellow was Knute Rockne when a student in North-west Division (now Tukey) high, Chicago. Note how facial contour resembled Rockne of 1931.

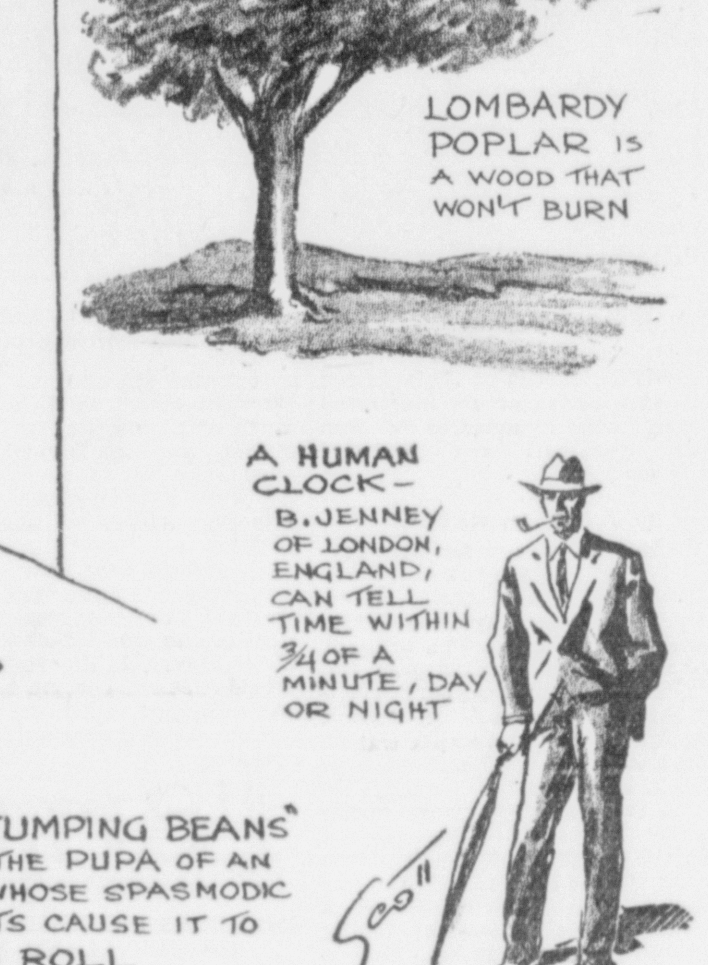

ROCKNE AS TRACK ATHLETE—In his early days as a student at Notre Dame, Knute Rockne was quite a track star. However, his track feats were later overshadowed by his grid prowess.

ROCKNE THE GRID STAR—How Knute Rockne looked when captain and brilliant end of the first Notre Dame team to defeat the Army. This photo was taken in the autumn of 1913.

DID YOU KNOW? - Illustrated Question Box

By R. J. SCOTT

Copyright, 1931, by Central Press Association, Inc.

ANDERSON AND CHEVIGNY WILL CARRY ON IN ROCKNE'S PLACE

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 11.—Two have been named today to handle the football destiny of Notre Dame, but Knute Rockne always will be head coach.

Hartley ("Hank") Anderson and Jack E. Chevigny are those selected to carry on for the famous coach, killed in a plane crash.

Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., the university president, in making the selection yesterday, said:

"There is no head coach at Notre Dame. Hank Anderson will be the senior coach and Jack Chevigny will be junior coach."

Anderson was star guard under Rockne from 1919 to 1921 inclusive. He was given wide recognition in his senior year. He returned in the fall of 1922 to assist Rockne as line coach until 1927. After two years as head coach at St. Louis University, he returned last year and developed the famous line which led Notre Dame to its third national championship.

Chevigny starred at right half back on the 1928 team and was praised by Rockne as one of the best right half backs in Notre Dame history.

June "Queen"

Selected as Queen of the annual June Fete at Washington College, Chestertown, Md., Miss Geraldine Harwood is shown wearing her costume of an Oriental dancer. Miss Harwood is a senior student and regarded as one of the prettiest girls in the college.

nothing done on heavier weights; light lights and sows around steady; 130 to 150 lbs. mostly 7.75; few sows $6.25 down.
Cattle: receipts 75; calves 25; market nominal.
Sheep: receipts 25; market nominal.
Receipts Friday: cattle 269; calves 477; hogs 4,600; sheep 99.
Shipments Friday: cattle 29; calves 198; hogs 830; sheep none.

PITTSBURGH LIVESTOCK
PITTSBURGH, April 11.—Hogs: receipts 600; holdovers 300; market steady to 10c lower; better 100-210 lb. offering $8.50@8.60; others down to $8.25, average around 250 lb.; 100-140 lbs. $8.25@8.50; packing sows unchanged; bulk $6.50@6.75.
Cattle: receipts 125; most supply carried until Monday; quotations unchanged.
Calves: receipts 25; market, practically nothing on sale; quotes nominally steady to 50c lower; $8.50@9.50 for choice medium weight vealers.
Sheep: receipts 250; market slow; a few lambs around steady with Friday's 25c decline; desirable light and heavy weight shorn lots $8.75@9.25; aged stock steady; better grade shorn wethers $5.00@5.50.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK
CHICAGO, April 11.—Hogs: receipts 5,000; market steady. Top 800; bulk, $6.35@7.90; heavy wt. $6.85@7.50; medium weight, $7.25@8; light weight, $7.65@8; feeder lights, $7.75@8; packing sows, $6.25@6.60; pigs, $7.25@7.85; holdovers 3,000.
Cattle — receipts 100; market steady. Calves: receipts 100; market steady. Beef steers: good and choice, $9@10.50; common and medium $6@8.50; yearlings, $6@10.25. Butcher cattle: heifers $5@8.75; cows, $4.25@6.50; bulls, $4@6; calves, $6.50@8.50; feeder steers, $5.50@8; stocker steers, $5@8; stocker cows and heifers, $4@6.50.
Sheep receipts 4,000; market steady; medium and choice lambs, $9.50@10; culls and common, $7.50@8.50; yearlings, $7.50@8.75; common and choice ewes, $2@6; feeder lambs, $7@8.25.

CHICAGO BUTTER
CHICAGO, April 11.—Butter: receipts, 12,356 tubs; creamery extra, 25½¢; standards, 25½¢; extra firsts, 25@25½¢; firsts, 24½¢; 24½¢; packing stock, 15@16¢; specials, 25@26½¢.
CLEVELAND PRODUCE
CLEVELAND, April 11.—Butter: extra, 25½¢; standards, 25½¢; market, weak; eggs, extra, 19½¢; firsts, 18½¢; market, weak; live poultry, heavy fowls, 23¢; med. fowls, 21¢; leghorn fowls, 21¢; heavy broilers, 40@45¢; leghorn broilers, 35¢; ducks, 25¢; geese, 15@16¢; old cocks, 13¢; mkt. steady; capons, No. 1, 28@33¢; apples, per bu., Ganos, $1.40@1.65 per bu.; cabbage, $1.65@2.00 per lettuce crate; potatoes: Idaho Russets, Burbanks, $2.25 per 100 lb. sack.

DAYTON PRODUCE
WHOLESALE EGGS
Fresh eggs, per dozen 20c
Dressed Turkeys, (wholesale), lb. 60c

Retail Prices
Dressed hens, per pound 35c
Country butter, pound 35c
Creamery butter, pound 35c
Eggs, per dozen 22c
Dressed Ducks, per pound 25c
1931 Turkeys, lb. 45c
Dressed Turkeys (retail) 55c
Geese, per lb. 30c

Prices Paid at Plant
Hens 19c
Leghorn Hens 15c
Young Geese 15c
Ducks, per pound 10c
Old Roosters, lb. 12c
1931 Chickens, 2 lbs. down, per lb. 32c
Turkeys, pound 30c
Eggs, dozen 17c
WHOLESALE BUTTER
(By Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Ass'n)
Butter, lb. 31c

XENIA PRODUCE
Live Poultry and Eggs
(Corrected Daily by Greene Bros., 524 W. Second St., Xenia, O.)
Eggs, fresh 17c
Good Hens, 5 lbs. up 19c
Good Hens, under 5 lbs. 19c
Roosters 18c
1931 Fries, full feathered, 2 lbs. up 35c

XENIA LIVESTOCK
Heavies $ 7.85
Mediums 8.15
Light Lights and Pigs 8.40
Roughs 5.50@ 5.75

DAYTON LIVESTOCK
HOGS
Receipts, 2 cars; mkt., 10c lower
Heavies, 240-300 lbs. $ 7.40
Mediums, 200-240 lbs. 7.30
Mediums, 170-200 lbs. 7.60
Lights, 130-160 lbs. 7.10
Pigs, 130 lbs. down, 6.50@ 7.00
Sows 5.00@ 6.00
Stags 4.00@ 5.00

CATTLE
Receipts, light; mkt., steady.
Veal calves, ext. top, $ 8.00 down

CLOSING QUOTATIONS
New York stock market quotations received from W. E. Hutton and Co., Mutual Home Bldg., Dayton, at 2:50 p. m. daily:

— REOPENING —

GLEN CAFE

Saturday, April 11th

At Our

NEW LOCATION

Xenia Avenue — Yellow Springs

Bill DeWine

FOR PURE MILK CALL

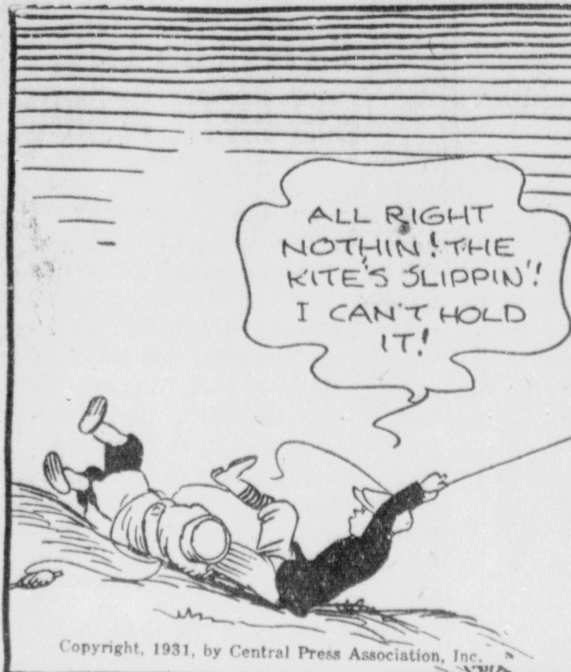

Springfield Purity
Dairy Co.
135 Hill St. Phone 39

REOPENING —
GLEN CAFE
Saturday, April 11th
At Our
NEW LOCATION
Xenia Avenue — Yellow Springs
Bill DeWine

By LESLIE FORGRAVE

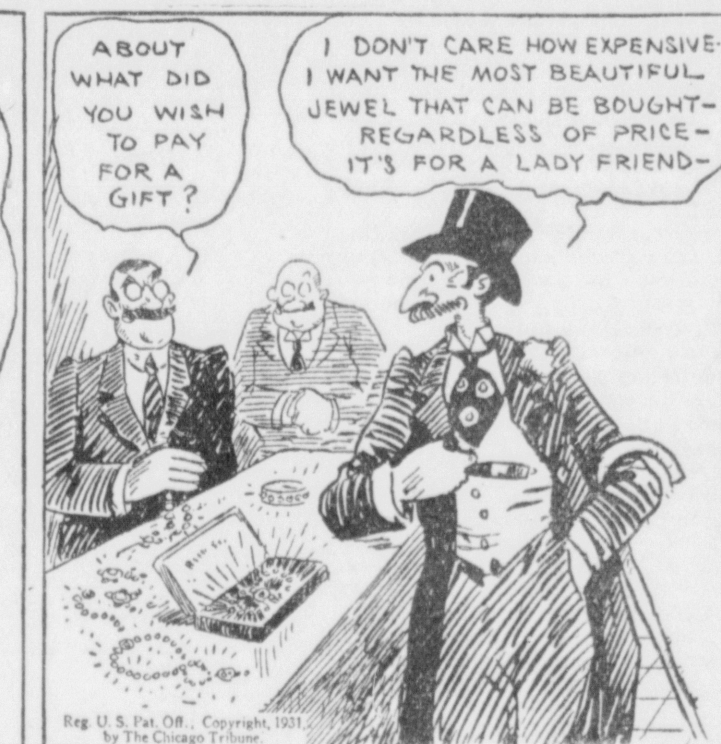

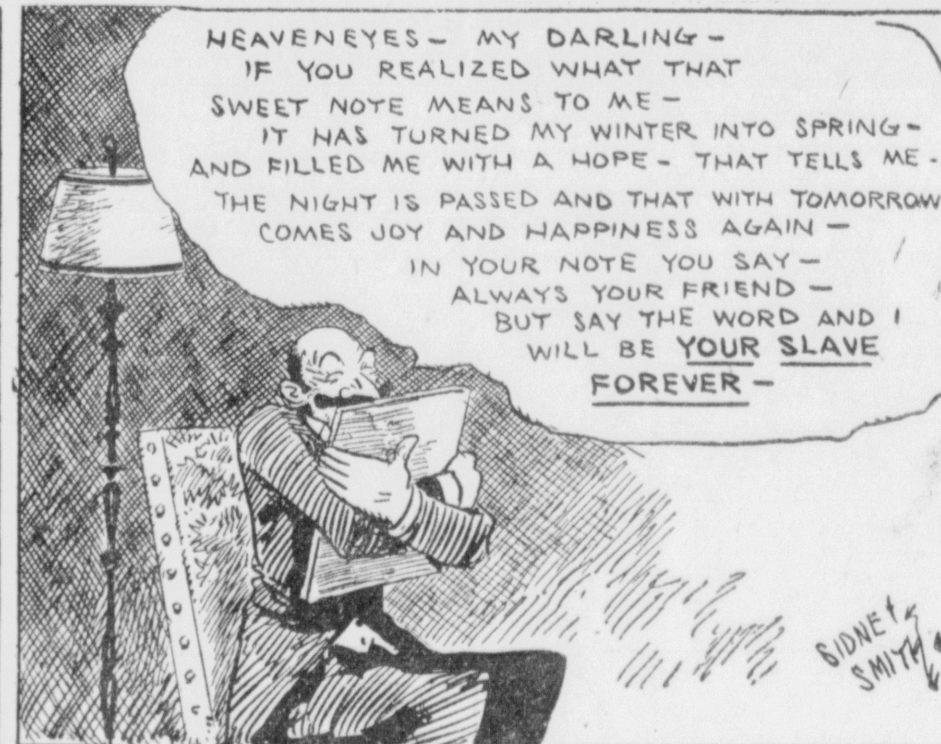

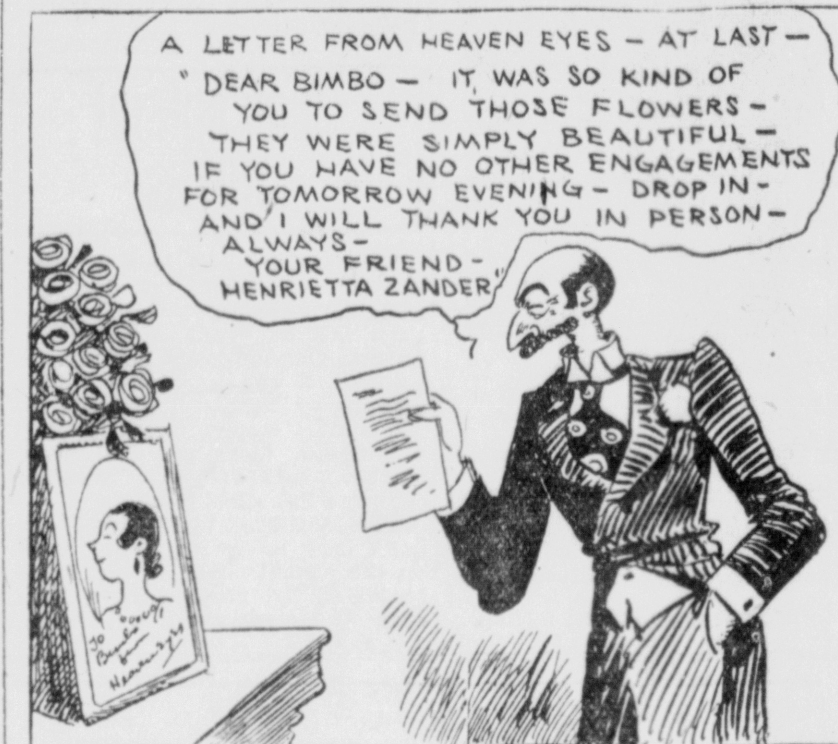

BIG SISTER—Poor Little Donnie!

BUDDY'S KITE WAS SO BIG AND THE WIND SO STRONG THAT HE WAS IN DANGER OF BEING DRAGGED AWAY, BUT BRAVE DONNIE FLEW TO THE RESCUE.

By SIDNEY SMITH

THE GUMPS—Happy Days Are Here Again

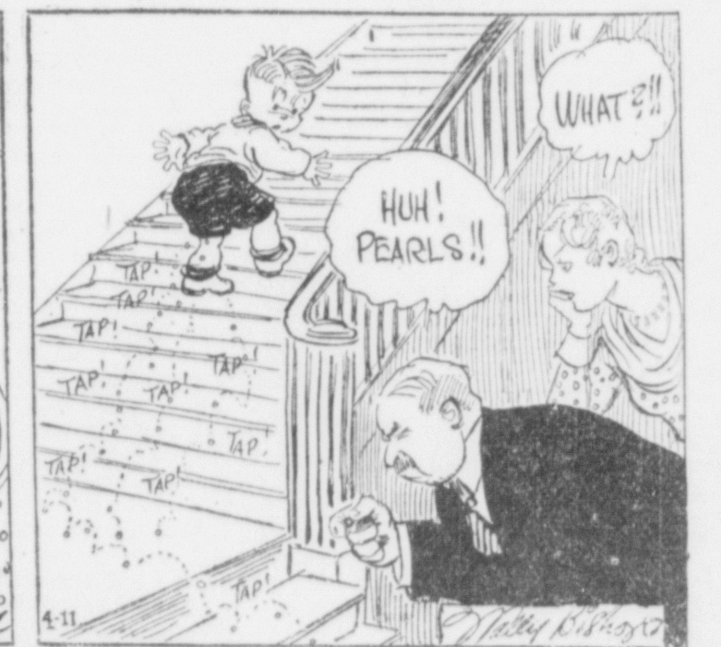

By PAUL ROBINSON

ETTA KETT—True Story!

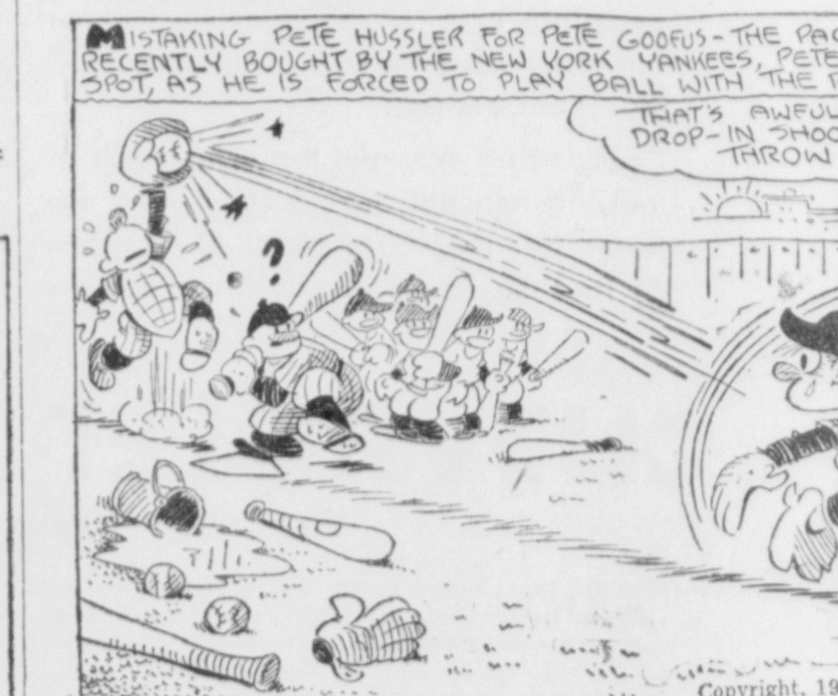

By WALLY BISHOP

MUGGS McGINNIS—John Law Scores a Point

By SWAN

HIGH PRESSURE PETE—The Wrong Kind

By EDWINA

"CAP" STUBBS—Who Wants A Garden Anyhow

By EDWINA

The Theater

Several years ago the Antioch Players of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, who frequently undertake an interpretation of the serious drama, presented "Outward Bound," the play by Sutton Vane.

Persons who saw their presentation, as well as others interested in the photoplays, will be interested in the Warner Bros. version of the same play, which comes to the Orphum Wednesday and Thursday.

The story projects a pair of young lovers into a group of shipmates bound for the other shore, but, having experienced this strata between life and death, they are returned and given another chance at life.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and Helen Handler were given the difficult parts in this piece, but the rest of

Twenty Years '11- Ago -'31

Stephen G. Phillips, the "made to measure" clothes man, has moved from a third story room in the new Gazette Bldg., to another room, second story, same building.

Mr. J. C. Dodds left for Washington, New York and Boston to look after some large contracts for the Geo. Dodds and Sons Granite Co.

About fifty Greene County ex-soldiers of the Civil War and their wives went to Springfield to take part in the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the first shot fired on Fort Sumpter.

While that film features the week at the Orphum, Manager Jim Hibbert of the Bijou is probably proudest of his theater's offering of Marilyn Miller in "Sonny" there Sunday and Monday. The story was lifted from Broadway, where it ran three years, and it shows the lovely Marilyn in the role of a circus performer, whose love for a wealthy aristocrat is, at first, unreciprocated. Lawrence Gray plays opposite Miss Miller and First National has given the little singing and dancing star an excellent supporting cast, including Joe Donaghy, MacKenzie Ward, O. P. Heggie, Inez Courtney, Barbara Bedford, Judith Vossell, Clyde Cook, Harry Allen, William Davidson and Ben Hendricks, Jr.

Golf fans should turn out en masse for the presentation of "Yellow Thru" at the Bijou Tuesday and Wednesday. It is full of golf, girls, guffaws and romance and features Charles "Buddy" Rogers and Nancy Carroll. The film was made by Paramount. The rest of the cast includes some beautes of the screen such as Zelma O'Neal, Thelma Todd and Margaret Lee, while others in the support are Jack Haley, Eugene Pallette, Claude King, Kathryn Givney, Don Tomkins and Albert Gran.

Thursday will be whoopee night at the Bijou when Jack Oakie spreads himself on the screen in his hilarious film, "The Gang Buster." The picture will be shown for the benefit of the Moose Lodge.

A Radio interpretation of another of Percy Wren's famous series of novels about the Geste brothers, will be presented at the Bijou Friday and Saturday. It is "Beau Ideal" in which Ralph Forbes, who played the part of "John Geste" in "Beau Geste," continues the part in this picture, which acts as a sequel to its predecessors. Everyone knows it is a thrilling story of the Foreign Legion, admirably done. Forbes will be assisted by Loretta Young, Irene Rich, Lester Vail, Leni Stengel, Otto Matsson, Myrtle Stedman, John M. St. Polis, Hale Hamilton and others.

SALLY'S SALLIES

The proper study of woman is man.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

VALIDITY OF WILL CONTESTED IN SUIT; OTHER COURT NEWS

Suit contesting the will of the late David Lee, who died February 24 last, has been filed in Common Pleas Court by Deborah Pope, Carrie Jones, Susie Copeland and Belle Hall against Hazel Pope Robinson and Charles F. Points, the latter as executor of the decedent's estate.

Asserting they are heirs of the estate, the plaintiffs charge that a document bearing the date of December 10, 1930, purporting to be the last will of the deceased, which was duly probated March 6, last, named the defendant, Hazel Pope Robinson, as sole legatee. Marshall and Marshall are the plaintiffs' attorneys.

INJUNCTION ASKED

Suit to recover $100 damages and seeking an injunction to enjoin removal of two buildings from a farm they own in Xenia Twp., has been filed in Common Pleas Court by Ralph and Mary Horney against John Wysong and W. H. Chadwick.

The farm in question, consisting of twenty-three acres, is located on the Upper Bellbrook Pike, one-half mile from Xenia and is part of the former Boyd Hopping farm.

Setting forth that W. T. Wroe built three permanent buildings on the property in connection with the operation of a gravel washing plant, the plaintiffs say the defendants bought the machinery and equipment used by the plant and on last September 2 removed one of the structures, an office building, from the premises, damaging them by $100. They also threaten to remove the hoist house and large barn or tippie, the plaintiffs claim. Marshall and Marshall are attorneys for the plaintiff.

SEEKS DIVORCE

Gross neglect of duty is alleged in a suit for divorce filed in Common Pleas Court against Clifford Gray by Elizabeth Gray, who claims her husband's failure to provide made it necessary for her to seek work to support herself and their minor child, Patricia, aged eleven months. They were married in Dayton January 23, 1926. The mother asks for custody of the child.

MOTION DENIED

Motion of the defendant to modify a former court decree granting his former wife custody of their minor child has been overruled in the case of Doris Little Lucas against Davis Little in Common Pleas Court.

"So long as the Court of Appeals decision awarding the child's custody to the mother is of record in its present definite form, this court has no jurisdiction to modify the decree and will hear no evidence in the matter," Judge R. L. Gowdy ruled.

GIVEN JUDGMENT

S. B. LeValley has been awarded a note judgment for $114.79, principal and interest, against Levi H. Smith in Common Pleas Court. Both parties waived the right of jury trial and Judge Gowdy decided the defendant, as alleged by LeValley, promised to pay the plaintiff's claim after he had obtained his discharge of bankruptcy and that he is liable for the amount of the note.

CASE DISMISSED

By joint agreement the replevin suit of The Brownell Co. against Glenn A. Bennett and Helen M. Bennett has been dismissed at the cost of the defendants in Common Pleas Court.

COMMITTEE BUSY ON PROGRAM FOR SCOUT CAMPARALL IN MAY

Plans for the first annual Tecumseh Council Camparall, Boy Scouts of America, are nearing completion at Springfield headquarters, according to H. S. Goodrich, Springfield, chairman of the committee.

Goodrich has a Greene County Committee in charge of the local arrangements for the project which is to be held in Shawnee Park here May 15 and 16.

John Baldner is chairman assisted by D. W. Cherry, Fred Lang, A. Moser, H. K. Snyder, Arthur Taylor, Lloyd Confer, Cedarville and Carl Drake, Yellow Springs. These will report at a meeting of the Xenia District Boy Scout Committee at Central High School, Monday at 7:30 p. m. Goetzrich and Scout Executive H. O. Portz, Springfield, will attend Monday and the meeting will be in charge of Dr. Austin M. Patterson, president of the committee.

The Camparall is designed primarily to provide instructive pleasure and camping diversion for Scouts. One patrol of eight boys from every troop in the Council has the chance to be represented. The boys will have a regular two-day camp set up, will endeavor to practice what Scouting teaches and will have competitive contests in order to ascertain which patrols are the most efficient. Competition against quality and efficiency rather than time will be the basis for each of the ten Scouting projects that will be contested.

TO SHOW OLD ART

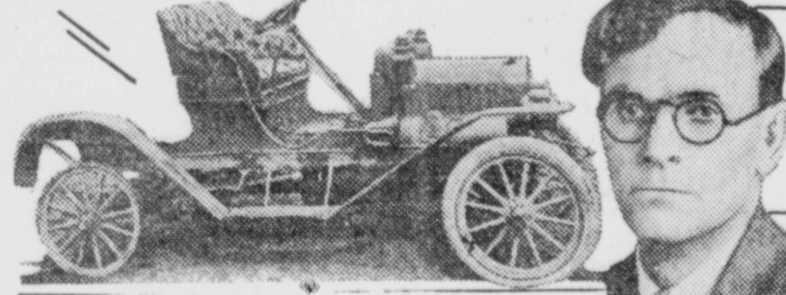

FRANKFORT-ON MAIN, Germ'y April 11—An exhibition of prehistoric African cliff painting will be held on the Frankfort Fair Grounds from April 18 to May 17. In addition to copies of such paintings from both North and South Africa, there will be exhibited the copies of similar Stone Age drawings in possession of the University of Tuebingen from Spain and France. There will also be a series of lectures dealing with the beginning of pictorial art.

COLLECTS OLD AUTOS

Ancient Machines Close To Heart Of Paper Hanger With Odd Hobby

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO the Schacht Auto-Runabout was the class of the road. It clearly shows the first transition between the buggy and the horseless carriage.

WITH A LITTLE PRIMING this two-cylinder auto will still wheeze along at 20 miles or better an hour. The machine has all of its original parts and has traveled approximately 283,000 miles.

By RICHARD H. SYRING
Central Press Correspondent

SILVERTON, Ore., April 11.—Pull your cap down to your ears, adjust your goggles, button the duster a little tighter, hop into your invincible Schacht Auto-Runabout and you are about the smartest thing joggling down the road—that is—you were about 25 years ago.

The Schacht now may be just a car of memories but Maynard L. Gottenburg, painter and paper hanger, hopes to perpetuate its memory. In fact he has many other old horseless carriages which he hopes to pass down to the following generations. For collecting automobiles of an ancient vintage is his hobby.

An Authority in His Field

While some folk collect postage stamps and others are interested in gathering the bones of prehistoric mammals, Gottenburg likes old autos. Just tell him where there's an old tireless auto—even though a fender may be missing—and he's happy. Then ask him a question or two concerning cars which cut quite a swath 25 years ago and you'll be surprised at his answers. He's not only a collector but an authority on old automobiles.

Adjacent to his modest home in Silvertown, Gottenburg has several garages which house his valuable collection. His hardest job, he says is keeping them quiet, for among them are a number of cans still rarin' to go!

"Pour a little gasoline into their tanks and, with some priming, you'll have the lot wheezing along like the labored breathing of a group of asthmatic people," Gottenburg declares. "They don't seem to know when they've traveled enough. One car in my collection has gone approximately 283,000 miles and still has all of its original parts. And this is the first year that it hasn't had an up-to-date license plate."

If you were to ask Gottenburg to rate his automobiles in line of preference, he'd tell you that the Schacht is closest to his heart. It, he believes, is one of the cars that shows the first transition between the buggy and the automobile.

"Take a look at it from a distance," he points out, "and it looks like a buggy. The radiator could easily be mistaken for a buckboard. It sure resembles a buggy—with only the shafts and horse missing."

Rumble Seat Nothing New
Don't think for one minute that a rumble seat is an invention of the present day. The Schacht runabout had a rumble seat with a real rumble due to the pounding of a sturdy 18-20 horsepower two-cylinder motor located under it. The motor is cranked from the rear—like twisting a mule's tail.

Another auto in Gottenburg's collection—a Brush—is a name not familiar to the younger generation, but one which had its following early in the century. Its one-cylinder block has been frozen, cracked and welded, but with some coaxing its tiny motor can be started. Manufacturers of the Brush evidently gave a thought to the bad roads of yesterday, for it has wooden axles—made of sturdy hickory. Chuck-holes and bumpy roads held no fear. With its left-hand drive it was one of the first to set the customary style of today.

How He Began
Gottenburg's first penchant for old automobiles came one spring morning while he was doing some painting on a pioneer farmhouse.

"I was snooping around a barn looking for a stick to stir my paint, when I spied an old car. It was in an empty stall and partially covered with hay. After chasing a couple of angry hens out of their nests I made a close examination. There was something about that old car as compared to the up-to-date ones of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates. "I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold
"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

of today that took my fancy," Gottenburg relates.

"I thought how nice it would be to have that old car. I propositioned the farmer and bought the car for a song. Since that time I have been adding steadily to my collection."

Cannot Be Sold

"Don't think for a minute I'm buying them for resale. I think they'll be mighty interesting to the generation of the next 50 or 100 years. When I die I'm going to leave them to my daughters, but with one restriction—that they cannot be sold."

HONOR ROLL PUPILS IN JEFFERSON TWP. FOR FIFTH PERIOD

Pupils on the honor rolls of Jefferson Twp. schools for the fifth estimate were announced this week. They were as follows: seniors, Marie Beard, Elizabeth Devoe, Jessie Kinnison; juniors, Lela Brown, Mary Linton, Walter Linton, George O'Bryant, Marion Poland, Charles Smith, Helen Stoops, Marie Talbot; sophomores, Margaret Brakefield, Mary Elizabeth Fisher, Hazel Hite, Vernon Robinson; freshmen, Martha Devoe, Eugene Haughey, Jesse Pickering, Wendell Stewart.

Eighth grade, Viola Cooper, Elsie Knisely, Irene Lusk, Freda Trout; seventh grade, Bernice Cline, Eddie Lockwood; sixth grade, none; fifth grade, Mary Brown, Harriett Fisher, Dorothy Gerard, Norman Linton, Charlotte Pugsley, Robert Smith, Ordadee Stewart; fourth grade, Eloise McDonald, Mildred Bone, Martha Binegar, Frances Turner; third grade, Martha Bock, Martha Burr, Pauline Dill, Catherine Lewis, Harold Hite, Dorothy Franklin, Mary O'Bryant, Floyd Horney.

Second grade, Wanda Mae Ary, Ruth Ellis, Herman Gerard, Maxine Helz, Charles Hollingsworth, Roy Lewis Jr., Helen Mason, Mary Louise Oliver, Harold Pickering, Neil Sanderson; first grade, Louise Horney, Wilanna Devoe, Betty Trout, Marguerite Turner and Geneva Slagle.

GARDEN SCHOOL IN DAYTON PLANNED

The fourth annual Garden School, to which flower and garden lovers in the Miami Valley are invited, will be held at the Engineers' Club, Dayton, April 13. Luncheon will be served at the club at 12:30 p. m. and all reservations were to be in to the club by Saturday evening.

The session will open at 9:30 a. m. with an address "What's New for the Gardener?" by Prof. Victor H. Ries, extension specialist in floriculture at Ohio State University. He will give a second talk on the morning's program on "Continuous Bloom in the Garden." Walter A. Tucker, managing editor of "The Garden Path," published at Columbus, will discuss "Water Gardens" at 11:30 o'clock.

The afternoon program consists of a discussion of common plant families by Prof. Ries followed by a garden clinic conducted by Prof. Ries. Charles Elliott, prominent nurseryman from England, will give an illustrated lecture on "Alpines for Rock Gardens" at 3:30 p. m. Several members of the Xenia Garden Club are planning to attend the school.

WOMAN BRANDED

Bleeding and unconscious, Mrs. Marian Collins, 27, was found lying on a sidewalk in Compton, Calif., following an attack by an unidentified Filipino youth who branded her with two crosses. Mrs. Collins is shown in the hospital.

HAINES TRIAL WILL START HERE MONDAY

Jury trial of Ernest Haines, 46, colored, Fair St., taxicab driver, under indictment by the grand jury for manslaughter, is scheduled to begin Monday morning in Common Pleas Court.

The manslaughter charge is an outgrowth of a taxicab-train collision on S. Detroit St. last January in which Miss Helen H. Sample, 23, Kokomo, Ind., was injured fatally.

Miss Sample, employed as night nurse at the O. S. and S. O. Home was returning to the institution to go on night duty after a visit to Dayton when the taxicab in which she was a passenger, driven by Haines, collided with a north-bound train at Detroit and Third Sts.

Haines, who was seriously injured for a number of weeks a patient at the County Infirmary Hospital.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The senior class held a short meeting Friday morning and selected its annual class play. The play will be "Take My Advice," an amusing three act comedy. A committee was appointed at the meeting to make arrangements for the annual senior class trip. Marvin Spahr, Lawrence Ball, Jane Harner, and Dorothy Lunsford compose the committee.

The Sen-Sen staff has been quite busy lately completing work on the annual for this year. Nearly all of the pictures have been sent off for engraving and the remaining few will be sent within the next week or two.

The sophomores wound up their ball candy sales this week and the juniors will have charge for the following month. The sophs will sponsor a motion picture show in the auditorium within a week or two and this should swell their treasury a good deal.

Central High students will be required to take the twice yearly every pupil tests Tuesday, furnished by the state department of education. Similar tests were given last fall. The tests cover a number of the most important subjects taught in the high school.

H. G. Patterson has been quite busy this week organizing his high school softball team that will take part in the city league this summer. A large number of players answered Coach Patterson's first call.

Senior girls have decided to wear the same dress for baccalaureate and commencement exercises this year. They will wear white dresses. They are at a loss to present as to where to purchase their outfits and would like have samples displayed before them in order to get an idea what they want and what the cost will be.

THE NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL

Life Insurance Company

Milwaukee-Wisconsin

For 73 years has excelled in efficiency of operation, well devised policy contracts, and low net cost.

Wm. W. Anderson

Special Agent

502 N. Galloway St. Xenia, O.

ORPHIUM

TONIGHT FIRST SHOW 6:30 PROMPT

Warnes Bros. Present

"MAN TO MAN"

With GRANT MITCHELL, PHILLIPS HOLMES, LUCILLE POWERS, GEORGE MARION

Also Slim Summerville comedy and Vitaphone Act

Filmed in beautiful natural colors.

SUNDAY, MONDAY, TUESDAY—MATINEES 2:15

Warnes Bros. Present

Charles Bickford - Evalyn Knapp

In a torrid romance of the frozen north—the first James Oliver Curwood novel to reach the talking screen. A man's picture that women will love!

"RIVER'S END"

What a book it was! What a picture it is!